

SENATE 'SPLIT' ON U. S. MARINE STOPS UP-FIGHT

Showdown Expected Today on Jones' Measure for Government Control of Ships.

EDWARDS DESERTS DEMOCRATIC BLOC

New Jersey Senator Opposes Bill on Grounds It "Paralyzes Private Shipping Initiative."

Washington, January 29.—(United News.)—A break in the democratic ranks supporting the Jones shipping bill developed tonight when Senator Edwards, democrat, New Jersey, announced his opposition to the measure on the ground that it "means not only a government-owned merchant marine, but also the paralyzing of private shipping initiative both as regards ship construction and ship operation." The senate is expected to vote on the measure tomorrow.

Another democrat, Senator Cope land, of New York, has been fighting the measure, but otherwise members of the minority party are reported to be generally in favor of it, along with a group of western republicans led by Senator Jones, of Washington, its author.

FUTURE OF U. S. MARINE HINGES ON ACTION.

Washington, January 29.—(United News.)—One of the greatest peacetime sea battles is approaching a crisis in the national capital.

Upon its outcome depends the future of the American merchant marine. The entire fight revolves around a single issue—control. The white house and the United States Chamber of Commerce favor returning the merchant marine to private ownership. The senate wants the government to continue in the shipping business. The $50,000,000 Transoceanic corporation wants private ownership but with government aid.

Senate proponents of government ownership, waging a bitter battle against the expressed wishes of the president, appear victorious in their engagement as the bill introduced by Senator Jones, Washington republican, chairman of the commerce committee, moved on towards adoption.

Bill May Pass Senate.

The bill, which expresses an unqualified policy of government ownership and operation, probably will pass the senate late Monday or Tuesday.

Its progress in the house is less certain and it appears that administration leaders will have sufficient votes to either defeat it or keep it buried in committee. However, should the bill pass both the senate and house, President Coolidge is expected to veto it.

On Friday the president sounded another warning against its adoption. He stated the bill would place the shipping board under the control of one member and remarked, should the bill pass, personnel changes on the board would be necessary.

One provision of the bill, strongly opposed at the white house, states the board cannot sell any government-owned ship without unanimous vote of the seven members of the board. If enacted into a law, this practically would block disposal of all ships.

Board Given Authority.

The bill carries authority for the shipping board to repair, recondition and improve vessels owned by the United States and make recommendations to congress for the construction of additional cargo, passenger and passenger and passenger ships.

Republicans and democrats have combined to force the bill through the senate, leaving the house to fight assisted by Senator Fletcher, Florida democrat. Both of these men believe government ownership and operation is the only way to keep the American merchant marine on the high seas.

"There is a more important question before the American people than the matter of building up our merchant marine," Senator Jones said. "The question involved is not a partisan role—it is bigger than the nation's ship."

Opponents of the bill declare its enactment will kill all hopes of maintaining a strong merchant marine.

Evidence To Fix Fate of Hickman Begins Today

Prosecutor Reveals State Will Probably Abandon Fight Against Jury Defense Accepted.

"CONFUSION" OVER RULES CLEARED UP

Attorney Asserts He Was Misquoted in Statement Saying "The Fox" Repudiated Confessions.

Los Angeles, January 29.—(United News.)—First of the evidence which may bring death to William Edward Hickman or which may send him to a criminal asylum with a possible chance for eventual freedom, will be presented here tomorrow.

In the stuffy courtroom ruled by the dynamic Judge Trabucco, intently dubbed "Judge Tabasco," the defense will make its initial move to prove that the Kansas City slayer was insane when he kidnapped and butchered 12-year-old Marion Parker. Depositions from friends, the record of his mother, Mrs. Eva Hickman, and testimony of alienists from the structure which attorneys will erect to convince three women and nine men that "the Fox" was failing mentally during the third week of December and accordingly was not responsible to the law for acts committed then.

Must Make Strong Case.

To win a favorable decision from the jury, Hickman must present stronger evidence than the investigators, witnesses and alienists of the state can produce.

"Preponderance of evidence is necessary to find a defendant insane," Judge Trabucco has repeated time and again. "Through his plea this defendant has admitted his guilt. His mental condition is the sole issue. The burden of proof is on the defendant."

Confusion over rules of jury selection which resulted at an overtime session of the court Friday appeared cleared tonight in an announcement from the district attorney's office.

"In all probability," District Attorney Asa Keyes said, "the state will make no further attempt to challenge jurors and will accept the 12 who now sit in the box."

May Withdraw Motion.

The statement indicated that the prosecution's motion for permission to continue questioning of veniremen will be withdrawn when court opens in the morning.

Such a move will constitute the second legal technical victory scored by those youthful defense attorneys.

WOMAN ADMITS SENDING THREATS TO COAL DEALERS

Frankfort, Ind., January 29.—(AP)—A young married woman was held by police today after she admitted sending threatening letters to prominent local men through the mails in an effort to get money. The young woman, Mrs. Fay E. Reinberry, 23, even sent a letter to her husband from whom she is estranged, in order, she said, to divert suspicion.

In a confession made yesterday, she said she was the writer of five letters which the police had made public. The letters threatened the recipients' wives with death unless certain sums of money were left in designated places. Authorities intimated she may be turned over to federal authorities tomorrow. The woman's husband, Virgil Reinberry, refused to make a statement.

Mrs. Reinberry said she selected names from the city directory. Amounts from $10 to $150 were demanded, but when decoy packages were left at the specified spots they were not called for.

ATLANTAN DIES SEATED WITHIN BURNING SEDAN

W. H. Mills Believed To Have Been Sleeping When Parked Auto Catches Fire.

OLD PAPERS IN CAR FUEL FOR FLAMES

Identification of Badly Disfigured Body Proves Difficult; Was Employee of Local Newspaper.

Trapped in his sedan by flames fed by an accumulation of old papers in the automobile, W. H. Mills, of 378 Woodward avenue, an employee in the circulation department of the Atlanta Georgian, was burned to death early Sunday night in front of 585 Fraser street, where the automobile was parked.

The body was charred beyond recognition, identification being finally established by Police Captain A. J. Holcombe, Lieutenants W. M. Weaver and R. J. Brown and Call Officers J. A. Brown, C. E. McCrary, Ed L. Arthur and M. B. Johnson, who were all summoned to establish positive identification.

According to police reports, a negro man, passing the parked automobile, noticed the front part in flames and Mills in the back seat apparently asleep. The negro broke in the rear window of the sedan, and the flames rushed toward the outlet, burning Mills to death.

Fire departments were immediately rushed to the scene, and they extinguished the blaze quickly, but Mills was already dead. The body was examined by Dr. E. P. Colvin, who established certain features of the man which were identified as belonging to Mills.

Coroner Paul Donehoo will hold an inquest today. The body is at the undertaking parlors of J. Austin Dillon company.

MARINES ADVANCE IN REBEL DISTRICT

Managua, Nicaragua, January 29.—(AP)—Marine corps reinforcements advancing from the town of Leon to the department of Nueva Segovia today reported they were making rapid progress and meeting no opposition. They entered Nueva Segovia today.

The good condition of the marines made the march with pack train comparatively easy. The columns will reach Ocotal in a few days and use the town as a base and regimental headquarters. An airplane patrol returning this afternoon from a flight over the Quilali region reported no signs of the presence of rebels. Major Archibald Young, in command of the marine corps column which took El Chipote mountain, now is well guarded there and reported to the aviators there had been no activity in that section by the forces of Augustino Sandino.

REBELS RETREATED IN DISORDER.

Managua, Nicaragua, January 29.—(AP)—While no definite details had been received regarding results of the air attack on January 14 at El Chipote when Major Ross E. Rowell, with a squadron of aviators, made the fiercest aerial attack on the rebel General Augustino Sandino since the arrival of marine forces, reports from several districts in Nueva Segovia say that Sandino was badly defeated and his followers retired in disorder.

So bad was Sandino's defeat that a majority of his followers deserted him.

LEGION WILL TRY TO CUT PACIFISTS' AUDIENCES IN U. S.

Indianapolis, Ind., January 29.—(United News.)—The American Legion doesn't object to pacifists expressing their views, but it insists on its right to attempt to cut down the size of their audiences, E. E. Spafford, national commander, said today.

Sherwood Eddy, the lecturer, called on Spafford at his home today and accused the legion commander of preventing free discussion of disarmament questions by causing cancellation of Eddy's speaking engagements.

"I told Eddy that I believed in free speech and wasn't trying to prevent him from talking," Spafford said, "but I insist we have the right to try to prevent people listening to pacifists."

ONE OUT OF EVERY 20 PERSONS IN U. S. IS FOUND OVER 65

New York, January 29.—(AP)—One person out of every 20 in the United States is 65 years of age or over, Anson B. Moran, chairman of the building fund of the home for old men and aged couples of New York city, said today.

America's population of aged persons is increasing by 100,000 annually, said said, due to the decline of infant mortality and the ability of science to prolong life. Of the 5,441,000 persons of advanced age in the United States, nearly 80 per cent have been found to be dependent upon charity or relatives for support, he asserted.

CHICAGO'S MAYOR IS GUARDED AFTER BOMBING THREATS

Revenge of Gangsters Is Feared as Police Form Cordon Around Executive's Home.

BY EDWIN L. HECKLER.

Chicago, January 29.—(United News.)—Threats to bomb the apartment building where Mayor William Hale Thompson, of Chicago, lives led police to begin a drive over the weekend on gangsters whom they believe form a national bombing syndicate.

A saloon was raided as the alleged headquarters of the syndicate and nine men were arrested in it. Fifty other gangsters were arrested during the last 24 hours in other raids.

Home Heavily Guarded.

A heavy guard was established about the mayor's home and other tenants of the building who received anonymous telephone calls warning them that they would be bombed were assured adequate protection.

Prisoners taken in the raid were believed responsible for bombing the homes of City Controller Charles C. Fitzmorris and Dr. W. H. Reid last week. Both men are confidants of Mayor Thompson, and the motive for the bombings was believed to be revenge for the city administration's action in stopping open gambling which revealed during the first six months of the Thompson regime.

The bombing syndicate is alleged to be allied with various gang factions which the bombing was believed to be the work of. According to information obtained by Assistant State's Attorney Walter G. Walker, the syndicate maintained a fixed scale of prices for bombings and worked for anyone who had the money.

Unions Bombed Shops.

Their principal clients allegedly were the vice chiefs and heads of spurious unions and trade associations which bombed craftsmen and business men who refused to join their organizations.

Activity of the bombers was turned on city hall politicians for the first time last week. In many cases, the syndicate would not know definitely what the bombing was for, the address of the house to be bombed was furnished and the client paid the syndicate's fee.

Stench bombs to serve as a warning cost $25 "delivered." The price of high explosive bombs was $100 or more, according to the type of explosive used and difficulty in planting them. Reports to the state's attorney's office showed.

In addition to the saloon raid, three men and a woman were arrested in a hotel room and explosives and safe blowers' tools were confiscated.

Other Homes Watched.

Homes of other men, known as union leaders and believed implicated in the bombings, were watched.

More than 40 petty gangsters were picked up by detective squads and held to be shown to holdup and terrorist tactics for identification.

Of the men taken in the saloon, Mike McGovern, Morris Roche, Robert McLeod and Edward Riley have been definitely connected with bombings. Prosecutor Walker said.

Indictments will be sought against the four when the grand jury meets Monday.

Police failed Sunday night to identify the persons warning Mayor Thompson's neighbors of impending violence. The apartment house occupied by the mayor is one of the most elaborate in Chicago.

One of the persons telephoning various tenants was a woman. Others received warnings over the telephone from a masculine voice.

Convicted Slayer Quits Death Cell for New Trial

ALLEGED HE KILLED DOCTOR AFTER SON DIED

Brooklyn, January 29.—(United News.)—Back from a 7-months' sojourn in the Sing Sing death house, Francesco Caruso will start his second trial for life Monday.

Caruso killed Dr. Casper Pendola on February 13, 1926, because his son died of diphtheria shortly after the doctor had administered an anti-toxin. Judge Alfonso G. McLaughlin sentenced Caruso to the electric chair, but the court of appeals granted him a new trial.

Caruso's lawyers will plead that their client found himself uncontrollably grief-stricken.

"They say Caruso killed in grief and did not premeditate murder," Mrs. Helen Pendola, the doctor's widow, said. "If that were true, why did Caruso cover up the dead child and lead my husband into the bedroom, where they would be alone, as if the patient were still alive?"

Testimony at the trial showed that Caruso's son had been sick a week before Dr. Pendola was given the case and that the father mistakenly thought anti-toxin had caused the child's death.

Left without insurance, Dr. Pendola's widow is now struggling to make a living by turning her home into a private maternity hospital.

Mrs. Marie Caruso was left penniless and with four children when her husband was sent to Sing Sing.

PERKERSON PARK DEAL TO COUNCIL

Expect Ratification of Purchase for New City Park at Called Meeting Today.

Unanimous ratification by city council today of purchase details of the Perkerson estate for park purposes was freely predicted Sunday on the eve of a special session called for 3 o'clock this afternoon by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale. The mayor issued the call Saturday.

Council leaders declared that city council already has virtually passed the matter which they are called today to ratify, and forecasts were that no member would cast a ballot against authorizing the mayor to sign notes approving acquisition by the city and Fulton county of the large strip of park land in the southern section of the county.

Several weeks ago council voted unanimously to purchase the strip, 370 acres more or less, from the Perkerson estate. A survey of the property disclosed the fact that there are 429,877 acres in the tract, and Mayor Ragsdale has decided that he should have additional money to sign the purchase of $1,000,000, less the $90,000 which Fulton county has agreed to pay. Under first negotiations and agreement, the city and county were to have paid $1,000 an acre, but when it was found that the acreage was so much in excess of what owners and prospective buyers thought it was, less of the estate gained, reduce the purchase price to $19,877, thus placing the figure at $410,000.

White for Purchase.

Councilman John A. White, chairman of the park committee of city council, and John C. Mackey, president of the Capitol View Civic league, an association in the vicinity of the Perkerson tract, Sunday night issued statements calling on city council to take advantage of the opportunity to buy the tract at $79,877 less than the owners first asked for it.

Mr. White pointed out that the city already has spent about $1,200 in improving titles and completing the survey, and declared owners have shown a willingness to cooperate with the city in its effort to establish a large park in the south.

Fulton county already has agreed to put up $90,000 to aid in the purchase and will assist in developing an 18-hole golf course and in making other improvements on the site. Mr. White said. "Owners have slashed the purchase price $19,877, which makes a total out of $79,877 to the city. We cannot afford to fail to buy it at council's session Monday."

Mackey's Views.

"Citizens of this section of Fulton county are looking to city council to ratify its former agreement, and authorize Mayor Ragsdale to sign notes for the purchase of the Perkerson estate for establishment of a giant park to serve this section of Atlanta and Fulton county," Mr. Mackey stated.

"If the city finds it impracticable to keep all the tract for a park it could actually sell portions of it at a profit, and we feel it would be a breach of faith to fail to acquire the Perkerson tract for a park."

"The new park would serve this section of the city and Fulton county. It is the most desirable, closest to the city of any within a large radius of the city proper. It lies between Stewart avenue and Sylvan road and extends from Dill avenue to Lakewood avenue. Fulton county, we are told, is ready to close its part of the deal and we feel sure that council will ratify its former action and authorize the mayor to sign notes for the additional money at the call session Monday afternoon."

Other members of the park committee and council leaders expressed similar attitudes towards the project which will be considered at the call session Monday.

PRESIDENT WAITS TO GREET AIRMAN

Tension of Crowd Relieved When "Spirit of St. Louis" Is Sighted From Maracay.

Maracay Flying Field, Venezuela, January 29.—(AP)—After being lost in a fog off the Venezuelan coast or an hour, Charles A. Lindbergh arrived here from Bogota, Colombia, at 6 p. m., eastern time, today.

Through Charge d'Affaires Engert, of the United States legation, the flier apologized to President Gomez for having kept him waiting at the flying field. The president answered that his only wish was for the aviator to arrive safely, as he had done, in order that he might embrace him; as he did when he gave him a decoration.

Anxious Crowd Waiting.

An anxious crowd had waited at the field, 50 miles from the Venezuelan capital, about two hours when he was reported over Higuera, some distance west of Caracas. He was next seen over La Guaira, the port of Caracas, and followed the concrete road from the capital to the field.

As soon as he got out of the plane and had been welcomed he was decorated with the Order of the Liberator. His first thought after being decorated was to look back toward his plane. He lost 100 miles in wasted travel. The trip from Bogota, approximately 650 miles in a direct line, required over 10 hours.

Before flying here, Lindbergh circled over Caracas, 50 miles distant.

Louisville, Ky., January 29.—(AP)—Captain Joseph Donnellan, British flier, who took off shortly after noon today from Chicago on a proposed good will tour of South and Central American countries, arrived here at 6:15 o'clock tonight. Captain Donnellan was delayed near Paoli, Ind., where a broken feed line from his gas tank forced him to descend. The flier will remain here overnight and then fly to Louisville tomorrow morning for Atlanta.

Chicago, Ill., January 29.—(United News.)—Captain Joseph F. Donnellan left Chicago by air today on a good will tour which will take him down the west coast of South America and may lead to establishment of an airmail and express service between the points on his route.

Donnellan's first stop was Louisville, Ky. From there he goes to Atlanta, a 20-hour journey. Captain Donnellan flew with the lightest load possible although he carried emergency rations for six days and a small rifle for protection.

W. W. Dwyer, backer of the flight, said the purpose of it was to establish commercial contact with South America and prove that regular service to Latin American ports was practical.

Cities on Donnellan's route are Managua, Nicaragua; Panama City, Panama; Bogota, Colombia; Quilali, Ecuador; Trujillo, Peru; Arequipa, Peru; Antofagasta and Santiago, Chile. He will return to Chicago via Mexico City, Tampico and Dallas, Texas.

AUSTRALIAN AVIATOR RESCUED FROM SEA

Melbourne, Australia, January 29. (AP)—Lieutenant H. Quiller, noted parachute jumper who dropped from an airplane into the sea at Bondy Beach, Sydney, and then drifted out to sea, was rescued after floundering for more than an hour in shark-infested waters.

Quiller was giving an exhibition before 12,000 spectators when his mishap occurred yesterday. A surf boat hurried out to rescue him, but could not locate him and it was feared for a time that he was lost. News of his rescue did not reach here until today.

Dr. Copeland Says:

"Mineral waters of the right sort are preferable to many cathartic compounds. Their power to overcome the immediate effects of constipation is unquestioned. In their effects upon the bowel and its lining membranes they are far less irritating. Indeed, many have qualities that make them soothing and healing. Sugar-coated pills are pleasant to take, which may add to their danger. They are no less habit-forming and drastic because they appeal to the taste."

Pluto Water, with its mineral content, flushes the bowels and washes away impurities. It is gentle, soothing, healing, non-habit-forming. Corrects constipation and restores normal bowel movements. Acts in 30 minutes to 2 hours.

Former Church Organ Player Quits City After Crime Career

Chicago, January 29.—(United Press.)—The "Marion Kirk" of the Chicago underworld, who was strangled to death, was not a sufficient to prosecute, however.

"All these crooks who said they were my friends deserted me when I got into trouble," Doris said. "I've had enough and I'm going home. It's going to be slow for a while and there aren't any night clubs in Estherville, Iowa, but I'll get to like it."

Doris left the Iowa village six years ago because playing the church organ wasn't exciting enough, she said. She had been engaged in various criminal enterprises and became acquainted with the murdered Betty Chambers last fall. Doris was arrested as a suspect because police believed she was intimate with Betty's paramour.

YOUTH WAS WOUNDED BY NEGRO, HE SAYS

H. W. Simpson, 18, of Fort McPherson, was rushed to Grady hospital late Sunday night after having been wounded, according to the story told doctors, when a negro fired into the car occupied by Simpson, Jessie Gibson and Ralph Rountree at a point this side of Flint river bridge, near Riverdale.

Simpson's wound was believed to be superficial.

According to the story told by Simpson and his companions, their car was "flagged" by three negroes, who requested the loan of a jack. While they were waiting on the negroes to return the jack, Simpson stated, one of the negroes, whom he identified as Tabe Boland, came to the car occupied by the white youths and became insulting.

When they tried to quiet him, it is alleged the negro fired pointblank into the trio, using a small rifle. Simpson was struck in the right arm and chest.

The shooting occurred in Clayton county, and the sheriff was notified of the affair.

Simpson resides with his brother, an Atlanta policeman, at the latter's home on Evans drive, Fort McPherson.

GLEE CLUB PRESENTS NEWEST SELECTIONS

A distinct musical treat is in store for Atlantans in the presentation tonight at the Atlanta Woman's Club auditorium of the University of North Carolina Glee Club, in the opinion of Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, president of the Woman's club, who declares that this famous college group will rank as one of the finest choral organizations heard in Atlanta.

"In those massively masculine Russian numbers, such as 'The Volga Boatman,' the University of North Carolina Glee club offers a treat for every lover of vocal beauty," Mrs. Price-Smith said.

The music critics of the nation concur in Mrs. Price-Smith's opinion of the excellence of the organization, which in three short years has sprung into national prominence among college singers. The club received particular praise from the English and foreign journals on its European tour last summer.

The program, to be presented tonight, beginning promptly at 8:15 o'clock, will be composed of many new and novel numbers in addition to the established favorites. It is announced that the finest features of the glee club is said to be its rendition of negro folk songs.

Tickets are on sale at Phillips & Crew Piano company and at the Woman's club.

EVIDENCE TO FIX FATE OF HICKMAN TO START

Jerome Walsh, of Kansas City, and Richard Cantillon, of Los Angeles, they first outwitted the veteran state prosecutor when, on the opening day of the trial, they succeeded in gaining the withdrawal of Superior Judge Carlos Hardy, appointed to try the case.

That more confused the entire courtroom but it was nothing to the bombshell Walsh and Cantillon tossed while fighting for the jury Friday night.

Accept Jurors Suddenly.

Apparently determined to exhaust their entire quota of 20 peremptory challenges, the defense, taking advantage of the state's passing of the jury, suddenly accepted the panel as it stood.

Taken by surprise, Keyes demanded the right to exercise his peremptory challenges and a court adjourned with the matter of doubt still hanging.

If, as indicated in the announcement tonight, the state accepts the jury and withdraws its motion for use of challenges, then two alternate jurors will be selected, the entire group sworn in and the presentation of evidence will begin.

The nature of the evidence and the order of its introduction was fairly clear. Because of Hickman's plea, "not guilty by reason of insanity," the state can establish its case merely by reading the indictment against him.

Depositions Are Lengthy.

This true bill, in brief, charges him with the kidnapping of a minor of the Los Angeles schoolgirl. Since the burden of proof rests with the defendant, defense immediately will introduce its evidence.

Reading into the records of the 28 depositions collected by Walsh when he returned to Kansas City three weeks ago will come first. The sworn statement of Donald Johnson, former schoolmate of Hickman in Kansas City, will head this list.

These depositions cover more than 600 typewritten pages and will require at least one day to transcribe them to the court records.

Next the defense will place a number of persons on the stand who now live here but who knew Hickman in Kansas City.

Her physical condition permitting, Mrs. Hickman will be called to the stand. She will testify regarding actions of her son and will reveal her record in an Arkansas asylum.

Through the mother the defense will first attempt to establish the contention of "congenital insanity."

Father Also To Testify.

Thomas Hickman, father of the defendant and divorced from Mrs. Hickman, may testify during the proceedings.

Both the father and the mother have been in retirement since they arrived here last week. They met once and on that occasion exchanged only formalities. "The Fox" probably will not reach the stand.

The state's attempt to convince the jury that "the Fox" was sane and, therefore in need of hanging, will be in the nature of a rebuttal. Perry Parker, Los Angeles bank executive, who paid $1,500 for the dismembered and dismembered body of his daughter, will be the first witness.

Others Are Summoned.

Then a series of persons will appear to trace the actions of "the Fox" from the time he first abducted the schoolgirl until he was captured near Pendleton, Oregon.

The signed confession in which Hickman detailed the course of his bloody deed will be read into the records and then the state psychiatrists will testify.

Mrs. Hickman visited her son in the county jail today and newspaper photographers got the first pictures of mother and son together.

Walsh today declared he had been misquoted yesterday in a statement saying Hickman had repudiated his confessions. He said the veracity of the confessions will not be attacked.

WOMEN POWER OVER SMITH'S RHYNESS

Washington, January 29.—(United Press.)—Governor Al Smith, of New York, "is opposed to the 15th amendment and no denunciation by his adherents of the allegedly violations of the 14th and 15th amendments will make respectable his contempt for the 18th amendment," Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson, chairman of the National Woman's Democratic Law Enforcement league, said in a letter to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, of the New York state democratic committee, made public today.

A letter from Mrs. Roosevelt to Mrs. Nicholson asked: "Are you making as great an effort to enforce the 14th and 15th amendments as you are the 18th? If not, Mrs. Roosevelt asked, would it be better to change the name of your league to a national woman's dry enforcement league?"

Believes in Amendment.

"I happen to be personally absolutely dry, and to believe in the 18th amendment," she said, "and the strict living up to the spirit of the law, but I disagree with those who consider it the question of vital importance today."

Mrs. Nicholson's letter said the league favored "law enforcement with special emphasis on the 18th amendment because its violation is just now peculiarly flagrant."

I regret to see you as one of the leading advocates, follow the reactionary republicans in dragging in the 14th and 15th amendments. It will no longer serve to intimidate dry southern democrats.

"The state and federal courts," she said, "will deal with violators of the 14th and 15th amendments. We shall deal with Governor Smith and those who, like him, oppose national prohibition. We are convinced a dry president is desirable and that the wet vote has no monopoly in mounting candidates for the white house."

WOMEN DRY LEADERS TO MEET IN CHICAGO

Chicago, January 29.—(United Press.)—Leaders of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota will meet here Monday to formulate plans for directing women voters in the interest of dry presidential candidates.

The conference is expected to issue a warning against placing too much faith in Governor Al Smith's pledge of law enforcement. Similar action has been taken at the district W. C. T. U. conferences in New York, Richmond, Va., and Denver.

She has been in London for a week, it was revealed today. Lady Chamberlain, wife of Foreign Minister Lord Chamberlain, and Mrs. Alanson B. Houghton, wife of the American ambassador, have received her.

at 4 a. m. in their tri-motored Brewster plane, which took them across the South Atlantic.

President Calles, Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, French Ambassador Perier, the entire French legation and members of the Mexican cabinet waited at the field for the airmen and greeted them. A large escort of police and soldiers drove to the end of the field to meet Costes and Le Brix.

A tremendous crowd cheered lustily as the flyers got into an automobile to begin a triumphal parade through Mexico City to the French legation.

Costes and Le Brix will complete their flight in New York, whence they will return to Paris by boat. They will remain in Mexico City a few days and then make a non-stop flight to New Orleans. From there they will fly to Washington and then to New York.

CHAMBERLIN FLIES TO RICHMOND

Richmond, Va., January 29.—(AP)—Clarence D. Chamberlin, trans-Atlantic flier, landed at a Richmond airport at 5:56 p. m. here today after a flight from New York in the Bellanca plane in which he was attempting to break the world's endurance flight record here Tuesday. Roger Q. Williams, co-pilot in the endurance flight, said A. R. Martine, New York banker and backer of the attempt, accompanied him as passengers.

A large crowd had assembled on the snow-covered field to meet the fliers and police had some difficulty in restraining the anxious spectators. Chamberlin quickly shut off his motor when he saw the cheering crowd, sweeping on the field and brought the machine to a halt. Darkness had hardly settled but the runways were lighted. The fliers were greeted by officials of the city and the Richmond Chamber of Commerce and were cheered by the crowd as they climbed from the plane.

The Bellanca will be housed in the hangars of the Pitcairn Aviation company until the flight and mechanics tomorrow will complete the overhaul of the machine. An 8,000-gallon tank of high-test gasoline is said to be en route here for the use of the fliers. Present plans call for a take-off early Tuesday morning.

ENGLISH PILOT PLANS HOP TO RANGOON

London, January 29.—(United Press.)—The English aviator, Captain Hiccheff, will attempt to make a non-stop flight from London to Burma, Rangoon, in an American plane, he announced today.

He said he chose an American machine for the journey "because no machine built in England is suitable for such a long flight." Hiccheff, one of England's foremost aviators, engaged last summer by Charles A. Columbia to fly the Bellanca monoplane from London to New York.

At the last minute, Hiccheff refused to make the trip, however.

Bad Boy Mayor Puts Broadway To Bed, Then Gets Some Sleep

New York, January 29.—(United Press.)—The Hon. Andrew J. (Bossy) Gillis, visiting mayor of Newburyport, Mass., awoke at 9:30 a. m. today after neatly tucking Broadway to bed two and one-half hours previously.

His honor, much refreshed, began his second day in New York by ordering a breakfast consisting of eggs looking up potatoes, lyonnais, rolls and Java with. He topped off the frugal repast with bananas and cream.

While consuming these dainties in bed in the midst of his opulent hotel suite, the conscience of Mayor Gillis arose to trouble him. He was smitten by a thought of his former compatriots in the naval forces of our country.

"Look at me," said "Bossy" in his first official utterance of the day, "stowing away this high-class grub flat on my back while their poor gods is eating off the deck."

A moment after the banana had disappeared, his honor was hauled out in his morning tub, as usual, when one is luxuriating in one's morning tub, the telephone rang.

His honor resisted all attempts of petulance that would have turned an army mule pink. Mayor Gillis sprang daintily to answer it. It seemed that far down in the lower reaches of the hotel was another mayor—Mayor Devir, of Malden, Mass., who desired to call.

"Hello," bellowed Mayor Gillis. "Send him right up. A mayor can't keep another mayor waiting. What-ta-ta think the mayor of Newburyport would say to the mayor of Malden, anyhow?"

After Mayor Devir had departed, Mayor Gillis delivered himself on the trolley of standing on ceremony. He plans to meet Mayor Walker Monday, the latter holding the Gillis rating of being the second best mayor in the country. Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago holds third place.

"Nobody in the world can high hat and get away with it," said Gillis. "But I know Mayor Walker and that kind of a guy. Say, if I could wisecrack like that guy, I'd be mayor of the world."

Mayor Gillis, however, had piled up fame as a wisecracker for himself on Broadway during the preceding evening, which started with a musical comedy and continued through night clubs which folded up and closed.

By one, as the mayoral party sought rest, his honor resisted all attempts of night life grandees to make a yoke of him. In one club a devastating young blonde was led up to the Gillis table and the announcer said loudly: "This young lady is a guaranteed 1928 model and she's yours, with the controls in the bottom of her dress."

"Thanks," said Mayor Gillis. "Can I trade her in for a new one every year?"

RIGHTS OF NATIONS SET PARLEY AGOG

are sweeping, and designed to alter profoundly conditions on the high seas during war time, besides being aimed at rendering the prosecution of hostilities as difficult as possible.

State To Remain Neutral.

The first article says that other states in case of hostilities "shall consider it a duty to remain neutral," although ready to offer good offices.

While the right of search in high seas is sanctioned, the provision is included that ships cannot be attacked except if, after being stopped, they fail to observe instructions given. Submarines are specifically mentioned as included in this article.

The draft says that only state acts of assistance to belligerents shall be a violation of neutrality, leaving to private individuals freedom in their commercial activities.

It specifies, however, that neutral states are obliged to refuse belligerents the use of their ports, harbors, or waters for the export or transit of war material.

Grandmother Enters College As New Student

Fayetteville, Ark., January 29.—(AP)—A 65-year-old grandmother is to enter the University of Arkansas here tomorrow as a "special" student.

She is Mrs. J. M. Hamilton, of Fayetteville, who quit school nearly a half century ago. She is the mother of eight children. Mrs. Hamilton will enroll in the journalism department.

"I was deprived of a college education when I was young and now that my children are grown I have plenty of time to devote to study," says Mrs. Hamilton.

Her only regret she says is that by entering school at mid-term, she will be deprived of the privilege of wearing the green armband which distinguishes first year women at the university.

Three Buildings Burn.

Farmingtonville, Conn., January 29.—(AP)—Fire of undetermined origin early today destroyed three buildings and damaged two others here, causing a loss of $43,500.

It's the money you spend wisely that counts

SOMEONE has said that a rich man has more fun keeping a budget than a man of moderate means. Because the money he saves is tangible, he can see it and invest it, and put it to work. Be that as it may, a budget is an invaluable help to anyone.

A budget helps you keep the right proportions between expenses, prevents you from spending more than is best for food and rent, or crimping more than you should on entertainment and luxury. But a budget is not a reason for getting cheap things, things in which you forfeit quality by attempting to save on price. A budget says to you: "Here is the amount of money you should spend for this. Spend all of it, but don't spend more." And it is up to you to get the best that can be got for that amount.

The person who spends his money wisely, who likes to get the utmost for it always finds out from advertisements how he can spend it to the best advantage.

It is surprising how much more wisely you can buy if you make it a habit to read advertising. A little more value here . . . a little better workmanship there . . . in this thing slightly more durability . . . that product perhaps a bit finer. And every cent of money you spend for advertised merchandise will bring you greater comfort, a higher quality of goods, and a standard of excellence that is nationally recognized.

It certainly pays to read the advertisements

GIRL, 17, BELIEVED HEIRESS, WEDS BOY BY SHOE WORKERS

Olive Hill, Ky., January 29.—(AP)—After being detained here a week, two hikers who admitted enjoying a nomadic romance, were preparing to leave here tomorrow as man and wife.

They were Martha Mitchell, 17, of New York, who was held as a wayward minor after a citizen here recognized in her the missing Frances St. John Smith, of Northampton, Mass., and her sweetheart, Fred Fuchs, Jr., a youthful Alsatian, who was charged with abduction. The charges were filed away upon their marriage here today.

Ordered Held for Probe.

The couple was ordered held by New York police when it was found out that the young woman was not the missing Massachusetts college girl but instead the missing daughter of a New York hotel employee. Townspeople contributed money to pay their railroad fare home.

Tonight the young couple were guests at the home of the chief of police, enjoying a happy ending of a series of experiences which threatened for the time to separate them and bring an abrupt close to their travels together.

MEET ME AT MARDI GRAS NEW ORLEANS, FEB. 16-21, 1928.

—(AP)—A strike of more than 5,000 workers which has tied up the shoe industry in this city for almost two weeks, was settled tonight, when it was announced that the strikers would return to work tomorrow at their 1927 wages.

The workers left their benches in protest against a wage reduction ranging from 10 to 30 per cent which was imposed January 1. The subsequently rejected proposals that they return to work pending a rehearing of the wage difficulty. The agreement under which they will return to work tomorrow was reached after a conference between members of the Haver Hill Shoe Manufacturers' association and the Shoe Workers' Protective union.

The agreement not only provided that the 1927 wage scale should continue, but that the amount deducted under the 1928 scale should be paid by the manufacturers within three weeks after the employees returned to work.

FARM-AID BACKERS GET 'INNING' TODAY

Washington, January 29.—(AP)—Proponents of the equalization fee in the McNary-Haugen bill will have their say before the house agriculture committee this week. Chairman Haugen has estimated that 50 witnesses wish to appear in support of his measure, and they will be heard, beginning tomorrow.

Another member of the agriculture committee has declared himself on the equalization fee issue, following the stands taken for and against that controversial clause by several members. He is Representative McSweeney, democrat, Ohio, who believes that no legislation at all this session would be better than to enact the McNary-Haugen bill without that clause.

Farmers to Pay Costs.
"The American farmer wants to bear part of the burden of farm relief which helps him," said the Ohioan tonight.

"The equalization fee does that, and is a form of surplus control which does not depend on a subsidy as the McNary-Haugen bill without the fee would do. I believe that the government should bear the expense for setting up the necessary machinery, but after that the farmers should be and are willing to finance for their own protection."

As for other farm relief developments, Representative Keckham, republican, Michigan, said today that he plans another conference with Louis J. Taber, master of the National Grange, before introducing the export debenture plan backed by the grange bill in form.

Grange Acts Carefully.
With S. A. Goss, master of the Washington state grange, and Fred Breckman, Washington representative, they will then seek to adjust the views of various interest groups, especially relative to the nature of the board which will be proposed to administer the act.

Keckham declared that the grange "is making every effort to avoid being put in a position that might be construed as opposing the McNary-Haugen bill with its equalization fee feature."

GOVERNOR CALLS BILL "CLASS LEGISLATION"

Fargo, N. D., January 29.—(AP)—Declaring that the farmers of the northwest do not need relief, Governor W. J. Bulow, of South Dakota, addressing democrats at a dinner which marked the close of the state democratic convention, branded the McNary-Haugen bill as "class legislation."

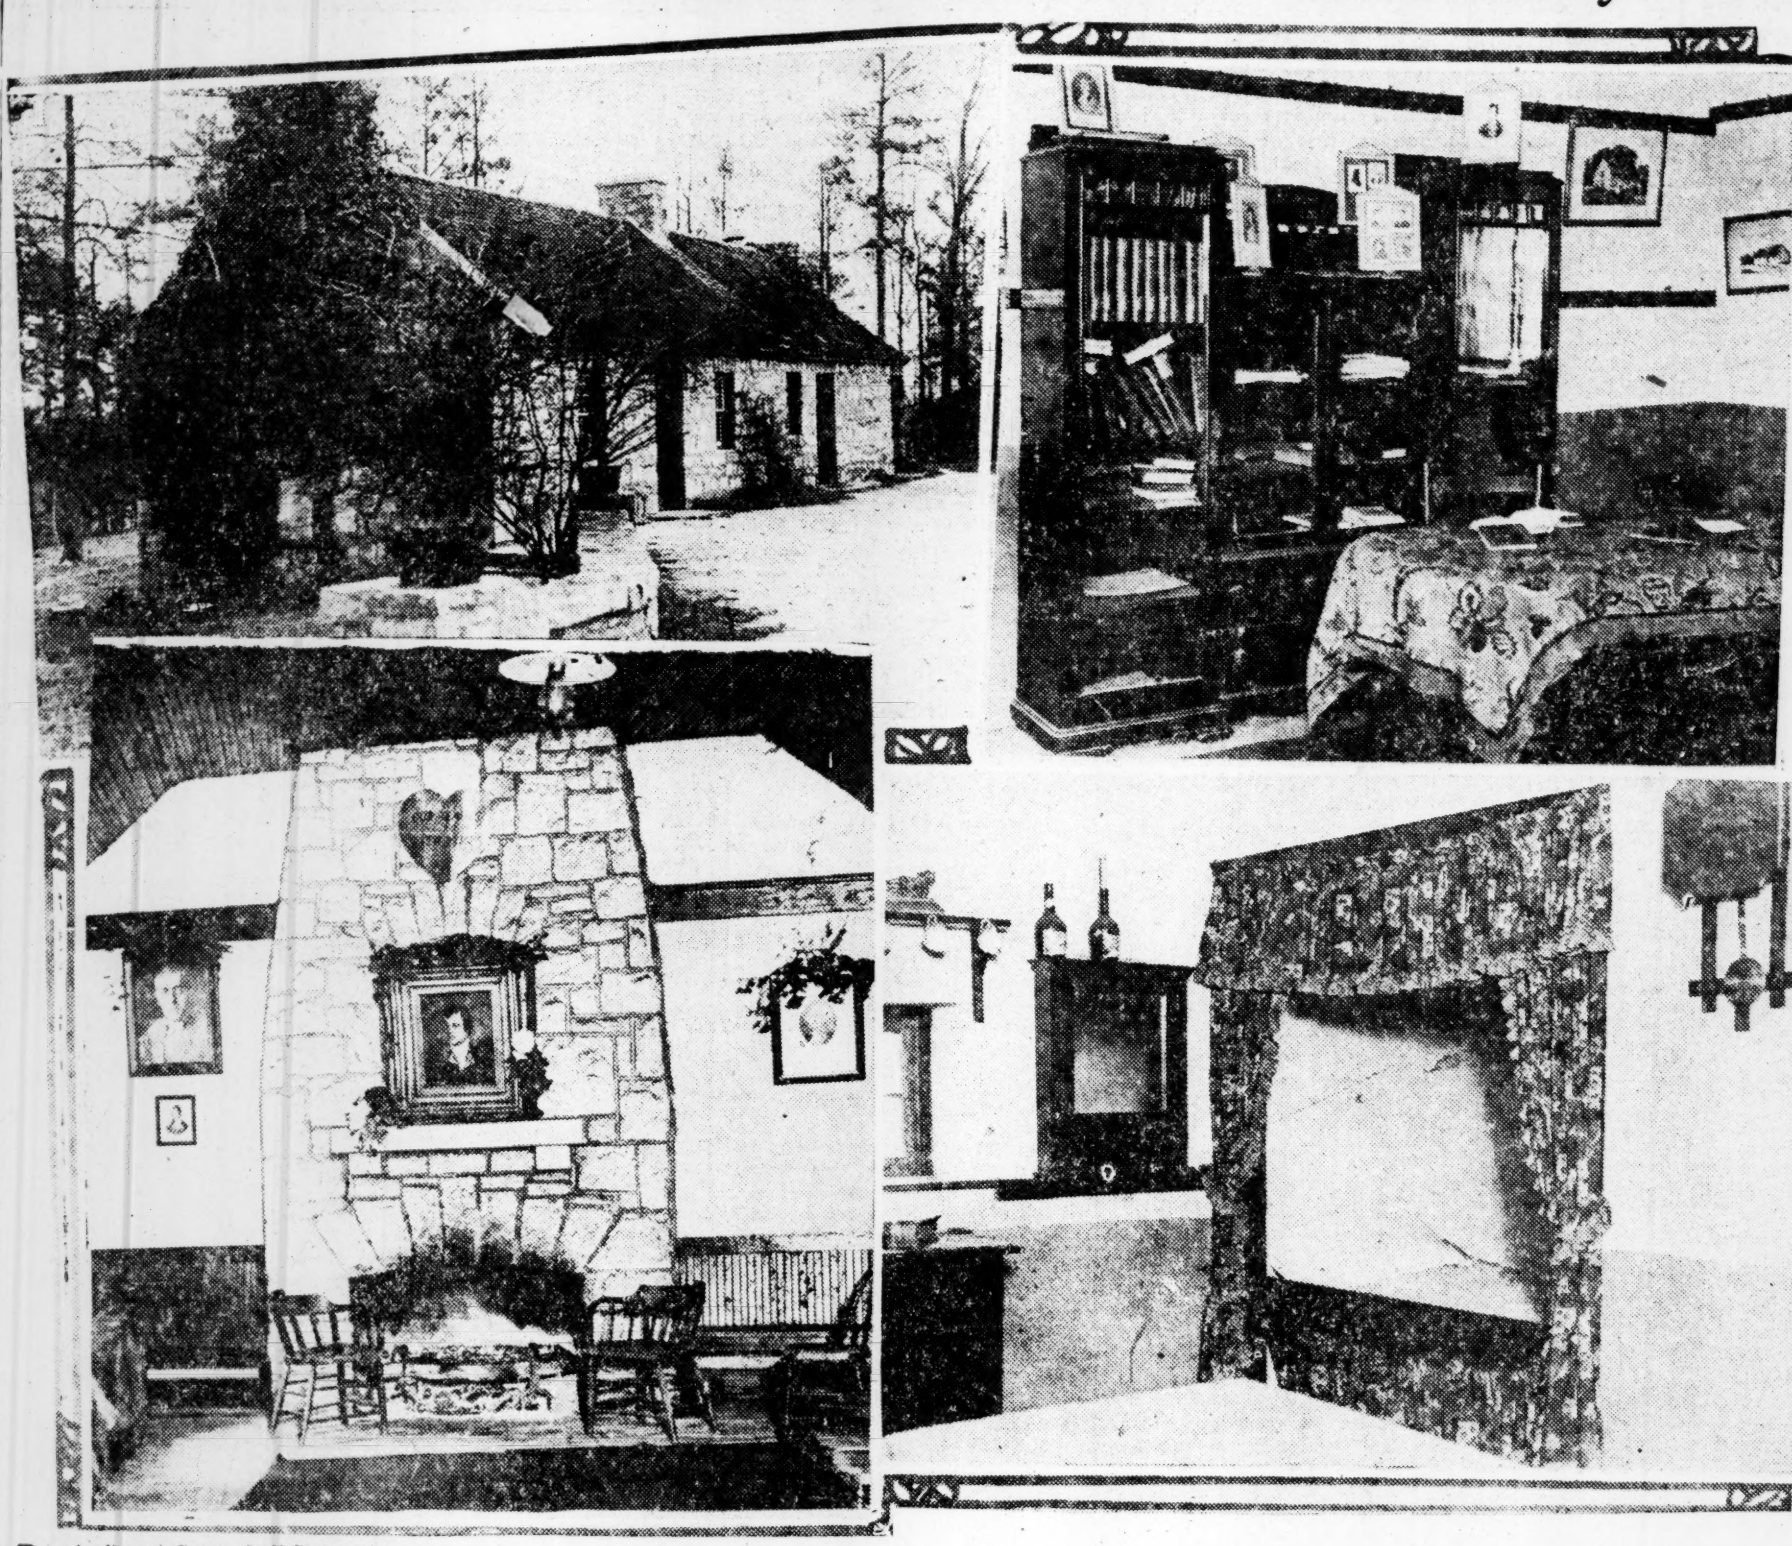

SCIENTISTS STUDY BABY'S REACTIONS TO HELP CHILDREN

New York, January 29.—(AP)—Every action and reaction of 11-week-old Harriet Kallen is being studied by a group of scientists, including her father and mother, in the interests of an increased knowledge of child psychology.

Harriet's father, Dr. Horace M. Kallen, is lecturer in philosophy and esthetics at the new school for social research. He is particularly concerned with his daughter's infantile curiosities. Her mother, a director of the Friendship Farm camp, near Danbury, Conn., specializes on Harriet's laughter.

Professor John B. Watson, of Columbia, is studying the child's serious emotions, and Professor Edward B. Holt, of Princeton, her physiological aspects, while Silas Brent, a newspaper man, is expected to record Harriet's reactions and the impressions gained by the others.

Humble, Ivy-Clad Stone Cottage Houses Spirit of Bobby Burns; Local Lovers of Immortal Poet Observe 32nd Birthday of Club

BY BEN COOPER.
It is only a humble cottage of stone with ivy-clad walls, but to the many lovers of Bobby Burns' poems its value is far above mere intrinsic worth. To them it is a veritable palace with gilded dome, for within its walls are found good cheer and fellowship—and the spirit of the great Scotch poet.

On its rough stone walls there grows ivy transplanted from Burns' native heath in Ayr; on its walls are many pictures of the poet, and in its atmosphere is the spirit of democracy as spoken by Burns—"A man's a man for a' that."

The Burns cottage on Confederate avenue, shown in the above pictures, was built as an exact replica of the poet's home in Ayr, and comprises the "but," "ben" and "hyer" of Scotland, the sleeping quarters and kitchen, living room and cattle room of the highland home. The hyer has been transplanted into the club's quarters, instead of being used as a cattle stable. The cottage was built in 1907 at the suggestion of Donald M. Bain, who is still an active member of the club.

Celebrates Burns' Birth.
The Burns club celebrated the 169th anniversary of the birth of Burns and the 22d anniversary of the club on last Wednesday night with an elaborate banquet, and a series of toasts by prominent Georgians. At this meeting Dr. Joseph Jacobs, one of the founders of the club, gave an outline of the club's history and of the building of the cottage.

The club was started in this fashion, according to Dr. Jacobs: "John S. Cameron was president for three years, from 1907 to 1910. During his term Eugene Oberdorfer suggested that the club be incorporated and purchase a tract of land where we could have a clubhouse. John M. Graham procured the charter, and we bought our present land holdings, about nine acres, together with four acres which were sold for enough to pay for all the land and virtually pay for the improvements made. It was the suggestion of Donald M. Bain that we reproduce the cottage in which Burns was born on one of Georgia's 'red hills.' Thomas Morgan, our fellow member, an architect, designed our present home, and Robert M. McWhirter, superintendent of the building, (Mr. McWhirter has been superintending the cottage ever since.)

"The club has been congratulated by many notable persons as having erected the most appropriate and striking monument to Burns in the whole world, including this cottage."

Land Valued at $30,000.
"A conservative estimate of the value of our land and buildings would be about $30,000, and without any indebtedness of any character. This healthy financial condition is due largely to our treasurer, Eugene F. King."

When Dr. Jacobs, Mr. Bain and

Hamilton Douglas visited Ayr they brought back roots and vines of the ivy that grew on the ruins of Alloway Kirk, and the east side and part of the rear of the cottage is now covered with the growth from these cuttings. Mr. Douglas nursed the cuttings for nine years before they were transplanted to the cottage. Since then cuttings have been given to many lovers of Burns to plant at their own homes.

Rite of heather are sent to the club every January by Mrs. Gene Strachan, of North Aberdeen, Scotland, mother of Alastair Strachan, who has been a club member for 20 years. Mrs. Strachan was stricken with apoplexy shortly after sending the heather for the annual banquet last Wednesday, and it is doubtful if she will live to send the heather next year. Dr. Jacobs said. Bits of "tartan," or plaid, are worn on the coat lapel by the members of the club on their meeting occasions, while many of the members have ties with plaids of the particular clan to which their families belong.

Many Notable Speakers.
Many notable persons have addressed meetings of the Burns club, among them the following: Dr. L.

cham Lamar Knight, Dr. E. S. Lyndon, Judge J. H. Lumpkin, John M. Graham, Dr. Hugh M. Barnard, Judge H. D. Twigg, of Savannah; Walter McElreath, J. B. Blackburn, of Chattanooga; George P. Birby, Dr. C. E. Wilmer, C. J. Hadon, H. H. Cabanis, Dr. M. Ashby Jones, Judge Marcus W. Beck, Captain Rostand, Dr. David Marx, Rev. J. Sproule Lyons, ex-Governor John M. Slaton, Dean Thomas H. Osborne, of Michigan; Dr. L. R. Christie; Judge A. W. Cozart, of Columbus; Dr. G. S. Murray, of Columbus; Judge Richard B. Russell, Judge Andy Calhoun, Dr. Marion M. Parks, Dr. Garnet Gilliam, O. B. Kreier, Dr. Henry Clay White, of the University of Georgia; Judge Frank Jenkins, Dr. Wightman F. Melton, Colonel John T. Beifoulet, Dr. David C. Barrow and many others.

Harry Lauder, famous Scotch comedian, is one of the honorary members of the club, and was entertained by the club on two occasions. Lord Glentana is another honorary member and was entertained at the club. The Salgrave commission had a reception at the club on their visit to this country.

Fine Burns Library.

HUNT BOY CARRIED TO SEA IN TINY BOAT

Norfolk, Va., January 29.—(AP)—Coast guards were requested today to search for Hugh Moreland, Hampton high school boy, believed to have been swept out to sea yesterday morning in a small duck boat.

Guardsmen combed the beach on the south side of the Chesapeake bay from Cape Henry to Lynnhaven inlet but no trace of the missing youth was found. Veterans of the two coast guard stations expressed the belief that the boy had been swept far out to sea in the small row boat.

Moreland left his home in Hampton yesterday morning, saying he was going duck hunting. He was taken by a friend to a fish camp between Hampton and Newport News.

Later a small row boat was reported missing from the camp and parents of the boy believe he started out to a duck blind.

Searching parties were organized in Hampton last night, but no trace of the missing youth had been found late today.

WINE EXPLOSION IN POLICE STATION STIRS UP FURORE

New York, January 29.—(United News)—Five one-gallon jugs of red wine exploded today in the rear room of the Hunters Point police station and brought members of the reserve force, who had been sleeping upstairs, tumbling down with drawn revolvers. The stuff had been seized on a Saturday night raid in an Italian district.

DRY RAIDERS SEEK CHANGE OF VENUE

Miami, Fla., January 29.—(AP)—Whether any of the eight coast guardsmen charged in federal court here with slayings during liquor smuggling operations would come to trial tomorrow had not been decided tonight.

Assistant United States Attorney General Norman J. Morrison, defense attorney, said he might ask for change of venue on the ground that his principals could not get fair treatment in Miami. Jacksonville tentatively was suggested as the trial scene.

Fail to Find Witnesses.
H. P. Parry, Joseph Kaslon and M. E. Lowery, are charged with murder in connection with the death of E. H. Jones, fatally wounded at Tahiti Beach, March 14, 1927. Several of the passengers aboard the pleasure boat where he was killed had not been located to serve as witnesses.

Philip E. Shaw, P. S. Austin, Otis Meekins, B. C. Smith and Edwin McLeod are charged with second degree murder for the killing of D. W. "Red" Shannon, reputed "king of the run runners," in this district.

Shannon was killed at Miami Beach, in front of one of the popular tourist hotels, February 24, 1926.

ARTIST HANGS SELF AT GAY N. Y. PARTY

New York, January 29.—(United News.)—In the midst of the gay party of a midnight party in his Greenwich Village apartment, the body of Hans Stengel, a dramatic critic as well as an artist internationally known for his caricatures, was found hanging from a hinge of the bathroom door early today.

Friends who became concerned at the prolonged absence of their host discovered the body. Apparently in high spirits, Stengel had excused himself from the party only a short time before. The artist, a powerful man of 34 years, had employed a strap and death was apparently due to strangulation. The guests called Patrolman De Pasquale, who attempted unsuccessfully to revive Stengel pending the arrival of a physician from St. Vincent's hospital. The latter, too, failed in efforts at resuscitation.

Motive Still Mystery. None of the guests was able to assign a possible motive for suicide. Stengel was subject to fits of moodiness and Eric Posselt, a Washington square writer and one of his closest friends, expressed an opinion that his suicide was the result of a sudden impulse. Posselt found the body. Beside it was the half-smoked pipe which the artist was carefully stoking with tobacco when he executed himself from a group of friends on the stroke of midnight.

Previously, he had been discussing the storm, which was drifting snow through the village streets and in which he had found beauty. Most of the guests, of whom there were about fifteen artists and writers, departed in consternation when the body was discovered, waiting not even the arrival of the police.

Divorced From Singer. Stengel had been divorced two years ago by Mrs. Leni Von Stengel, a light opera singer, but they had remained good friends and were frequently seen together.

Although born in Sheboygan, Wisconsin, Stengel's father, a German theatrical man, took him to Germany at the age of two. In Germany he was educated, and there his youthful caricatures attracted attention in the magazine Simplicissimus. When the World was started he was a member of the headquarters staff of the German army. In 1915 he came to America after receiving a wound in the knee that caused him to be invalided out of the army.

French Dig Into 'Dark Ages' And Find First Motion Picture

Paris, January 29.—(United News.)—Digging into the celluloid deposits of the recent "dark ages" of moving pictures, French scientists have brought forth a film, 20 years old, which they declare is the first movie ever taken and regularly projected before the world.

This film was neither comedy nor drama, but a documentary picture of a man crossing a river in a rowboat. The only actor was Louis Lumiere, one of the two brothers credited in France with the invention of motion pictures. The scenario consisted of Louis getting across the Rhone in the best possible manner without getting out of range of the camera operated by Brother Auguste.

The first real film comedy, long before the side-splitting productions of the end-of-the-century, was also a Lumiere production, which was also a Lumiere production, their second attempt at picture taking.

HANSELL TO RESUME
VIADUCT JOB TUESDAY

Chief of Construction William A. Hansell, who has been absent from his office for the past several days on account of a minor operation, is expected to return Tuesday, it was announced Sunday by members of his family.

He will be back in his office before detailed plans for erection of the Pryor street and Central avenue viaducts are received from Walter E. Schulz, of Memphis, engineer.

Mayor I. Ragsdale has announced that James E. Hill, president of the N. C. & St. L. Railway company, has informed him that the detailed drawings will reach here within the very near future, and Mr. Hansell will advertise immediately for bids for construction of the superstructures.

Officials of the Brooks-Calloway company, contractors for lowering the railway tracks preparatory to construction of the bridges proper, have declared that work of track depression will be completed in 30 days, barring unforeseen delays, and it will take 20 days to get the bids, in after they have been received, and the work will begin 15 days after the plans are received, it was said.

Mayor Ragsdale wired Mr. Schulz last week seeking information as to when the detailed drawings would be ready, and although Mr. Schulz was in the city, Mr. Hill furnished the information sought.

SOVIET DENIES REPORT OF MOSCOW REVOLT

The daily life of citizens went on in the usual channels. Theaters and movie houses were crowded and the Kremlin was not the target of any shells. The only soldiers seen were in the parks surrounding the building and these were on Sunday leave, cracking sunflower seeds while flirting with girls in lacy dresses out for a Sunday stroll.

LONDON ALSO HEARS

London, January 29.—(P)—An exchange telegram dispatch from Riga, Latvia, says that numerous unconfirmed reports are being circulated there that four Soviet regiments have been moved to Moscow in sympathy with Leon Trotsky, now in exile, and are bombarding the Kremlin with artillery.

No confirmation of the reports heard in Riga and Vilna of the revolt could be obtained from any source here today.

WHEELER REOPENS ATTACK.

Baltimore, January 29.—(P)—The policy of the United States government in dealing with natives of Nicaragua and the Philippine islands "by sending marines and gunboats is morally wrong and not based on sound business economics," Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, told the Baltimore Open Forum today.

Senator Wheeler questioned the "dependability of the reports and opinions coming from American residents of the islands, saying that they were prompted by selfish economic motives directly opposed to the economic interests of the American people as a whole."

"It is true," he asserted, "that we must extend our markets in order to find an outlet for the present overproduction in industry and agriculture, but we will not be successful in extending them by the bayonet. Neither in Nicaragua nor in the Philippines will the present policy of imperialism prove a success."

BUSINESS SECTION

New Bedford, Mass., January 29.—(United News.)—Half a block in this city's business district was in blackened ruins tonight as result of fire which wrought damage today estimated by police at half a million dollars.

THREE CHILDREN PERISH IN VIRGINIA FIRE.

Culpeper, Va., January 29.—(United News.)—Three children of a family of 13 lost their lives; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Preacher, are dying, and six other children were rescued in a fire early today that destroyed a two-story house a mile and a quarter from here.

The dead are Vid Rixey, 19, son of Mrs. Preacher by a former marriage; Pearl Preacher, 7, and Virginia May Preacher, 10. Mr. and Mrs. Preacher are in a dying condition at University hospital at Charlottesville, Va., where burns received when they succeeded in rescuing six of their children. An attempt to rescue the three who lost their lives failed. Two other children of the family were away.

Vid Rixey gave his life in a heroic attempt to rescue his sister, Pearl, when the house, totally engulfed in flames, crashed to the ground.

Together with his mother and stepfather, Rixey made two trips into the burning structure, each carrying out a child. The mother and father fell exhausted outside of the house after the second trip inside.

The fire was discovered when Mr. and Mrs. Preacher, who were asleep, were awakened by smoke in their bedroom. Of frame construction, the house became a blazing furnace within a few minutes after the fire was discovered. It was believed to have started in an overheated stove.

Rixey's body was found beside that of his two small sisters whom he had endeavored to remove from the burning building. He apparently was leading them out of the house when they were enveloped in the flames.

ATLANTIC CITY LOSS
SET AT $225,000.

Atlantic City, N. J., January 29.—(United News.)—Three buildings were destroyed and an estimated damage of $225,000 caused by fire which swept the boardwalk front here early today and threatened an entire block before the flames were brought under control.

A blinding snowstorm and a high wind hindered firefighters and almost 12 hours were required to put out the fire. The fire started in a photographic shop and the highly combustible material and inflammable film burned fiercely. Several explosions were caused by the photographic chemicals.

J. J. Dougherty, of Troy, N. Y., a guest of the Chalfonte hotel, suffered a heart attack as a result of the excitement and, according to physicians, was in a critical condition.

JEW ATTACK POLICY OF RUMANIAN CHIEFS

New York, January 29.—(P)—Declaring that the Rumanian government has failed in the past to keep its promises to protect Jews, the convention of the United Rumanian Jews of America today adopted resolutions expressing skepticism of the recent assurances given by that government and its minister in Washington.

Noting that the Rumanian government had "actually punished some of its defenders and made some compensation for losses," the resolutions asked "an honest effort to redeem the pledges and that it take the sternest measures so that no such act of vandalism shall take place again." Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, the principal speaker, said in regard to conditions in Rumania: "We demand justice, and we will have it with the help of the American people."

CHILD'S CRIES BALK IN ENGLISH CHURCH
GAS MURDER PLOT

Darwin, England, January 29.—(P)—Approximately 2,000 persons took part today in a repetition of demonstrations against the alleged Anglo-Catholicism of the Rev. F. B. Lauria, vicar of St. Cuthbert's church.

The vicar called police after the religious services at the church had been brought to an end by demonstrators singing the national anthem. The policeman left the church under a police guard as the crowd shouted.

Last Sunday parishioners presented a "sung eucharist" by singing hymns while the service was in progress. Milder protests had occurred on previous Sundays coincident with ejection of the revised prayer book by the house of commons.

The demonstration last Sunday, by 400 persons, was at the first Sabbath service after publication of the Malines conversations intended to bring about reunion of the Anglican and Catholic churches.

YOU ALSO BOUGHT ONE, EH?

Had my eye on this overcoat since before Christmas, and when the prices took a tumble, so did I!

Overcoats are things people don't usually buy every year, and when you can save a fourth on the price it is a wise stroke—economy-wise—to grasp the opportunity.

Our stock of overcoats and winter coats, formerly priced $20 to $55, have been re-marked—$15 to $41.25.

Speaking of investments, do you know of any other that will net you 25%?

THE CONNOISSEUR

Intellectual attractions such as art and poetry. Have a fascination for the Connoisseur as you can see. And at meetings where the best of modern poetry is read, He attempts to give an ear to every single thing that is said.

But the beauty of the ocean and the silver of the moon. Begin to make him weary of the reading very soon. And he finds a pretty lady in a blouse of gold lame. More compellingly attractive than the subject of the day.

And of course he ought to listen to the clever criticism. Which compares the charming poem to the colors of a prism. But a silken blouse with metal trimming looks so very smart. That he finds it hard to concentrate upon poetic art.

And a sheeny one of satin with a pin upon the yoke. Makes him wonder who the speakers were and why they ever spoke. And on being asked if he will give a very short review, He stammers that is something he is not prepared to do.

BROOKLYN MEN KILLED AS AUTO PLUNGES IN CANAL

Brooklyn, N. Y., January 29.—(United News.)—Whirling around a corner at high speed, an automobile crashed through a gate in front of a private home, went 50 feet farther and plunged over an 8-foot embankment into the Gowanus canal here today.

Hours later the bodies of its two occupants were fished out of the mud bed of the canal. One of the victims was Herbert A. Tunney, 30, of Brooklyn, and the other, it is believed, was Lawrence Ryan, 35, of New York. A pair of women's gloves found in the car led to the belief that there might have been a third person buried in the mud, but dragging the canal bed failed to locate another body.

GALE HALTS WORK OF SALVAGING S-4, OFFICIALS REPORT

Boston, January 29.—(AP)—Salvage work on the sunken submarine S-4 off Provincetown was halted today by a heavy snowstorm which blew in from the west in a fresh gale, the Boston navy yard was informed by radio.

A message from Captain Ernest J. King, who is in command of the salvage fleet, said that during the night the Bushnell submarine tender had lost one of her small boats when it sank after breaking loose from its fastenings.

PAPER URGES UNION OF UNITED STATES AND ALL CANADA

ARBITRATION PACT SIGNED BY GERMANS AND LITHUANIANS

Berlin, January 29.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Gustav Stresemann and Premier Augustinas Waldemaras of Lithuania today signed a German-Lithuanian arbitration treaty. Premier Waldemaras afterward left for Kovno.

Smiles of Dazzling Wonder

Your teeth are as gleaming white as any you envy. Just remove the dingy film that clouds them.

FREE 10-Day Test Proves It

HERE is a simple test that proves most of us have sparkling white teeth without ever knowing it. This is the reason:

Run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel a film. A film which absorbs discolorations and hides the natural color of your teeth.

Remove it regularly every day, and your teeth take on new brilliance and whiteness. Film is charged, too, with most tooth troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs breed in it. And they, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Ordinary dentifrices fail to combat it successfully.

A dollar now buys Atlanta's Finest Dry Cleaning

for plain dresses--for men's suits--for overcoats

The highest standards of the dry cleaning industry are in force in the large dry cleaning departments of the Atlanta laundries. Many of these firms have won national--even international--recognition through the exceptional quality of their work. In all of them skilled French dry cleaners, working with the finest equipment obtainable, have attained a degree of unusual excellence. Naturally, the critical housewives of the city have recognized this superiority and have shown a decided preference for the laundry when clothing, draperies, rugs, hats, gloves, blankets, furs or upholstery needed expert dry cleaning attention.

To clean a garment in the more careful way, the more satisfactory way--the laundry way--takes more time, requires better materials and therefore costs more. Very justly, the laundries of Atlanta have, in the past, charged more for their high quality services.

But now, through the economies of centralized management, you may obtain this better type of dry cleaning at the lowest prices in the city ($1.00 for plain dresses, $1.00 for men's suits and $1.00 for men's overcoats.)

Phone any of the laundries listed below. A courteous route man will call promptly.

WINDOW, PARAMOUR HARRIS' ACTED BILL FACE COURT TODAY DRAWS FOES' FIRE

Homer, La., January 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Essie Jowers, 39, mother of four children, goes on trial for her life in district criminal court here tomorrow with J. Eliza Swift, 42, former soft drink salesman, who in an alleged confession to parish authorities, admitted killing J. Frank Jowers, former minister husband of the woman, with her assistance.

No indication of the defense plans has been given since a funny commission appointed at their request found Mrs. Jowers sane in a report submitted to Judge John S. Richardson, January 9. Both sides are expected to be ready to proceed with the trial when court opens.

Body Found in Creek
Jowers' body was found in Caney creek, 25 miles from his residence in Haynesville, five weeks after his disappearance. His body had been weighted down with scrap iron. Swift, in an alleged confession to Sheriff John Coleman, said he killed Jowers on the night of October 21. He alleged in the confession that he was secreted in the Jowers' residence by Mrs. Jowers until her husband retired and that she held a light for him while he struck the sleeping man a fatal blow with a sledge hammer. Mrs. Jowers is said to have corroborated Swift's version of the murder.

Mrs. Jowers and Swift were arrested when shavings secretly taken from her bedroom floor revealed blood stains.

'Barker' Author Tells of Life With Carnivals

If you think that the carnival with its raggle-taggle Gypsy bands of amusement purveyors is a thing belonging to another age along with minstrel shows and vaudeville, take a look at the showman's bible, "The Billboard." In this magazine you will find that there are well over a hundred of these organizations in existence all over the United States.

Kenyon Nicholson, author of "The Barker," which begins a week's engagement at the Elks lodge theater tonight, with matinee Wednesday and Saturday, spent one summer with these showfolk gathering data for his epic of American tent show life.

"I found," said Mr. Nicholson, "that the craving for change which routs these restless men and women from their homes and makes them take to the road is never satisfied. If one is with the Barnes show there is an ever present desire to jump to the Southern Tier shows, and once a member of the Southern Tier 'band' cannot be happy until he has tried his luck with the Dodson's World Fair outfit. The item of transportation means little to these men since they patronize, for the most part, the freight trains.

Girls Necessary.
"The character of Lou in 'The Barker,' has occasioned considerable comment on the place of women in the carnival. Girls are a necessary part of nearly every attraction on the midway. The water shows carry from six to ten for the exhibition of swimming and diving. The Hawaiian show employs several Hula dancers and the Broadway Follies usually has six or more in its chorus.

Besides the shows, girls are needed as decoys for the various booths. In the old days there was a very wicked and well-patronized concession known as the "40 Camp." This was a ballroom under canvas. The girls danced with anyone who came in for the necessary ten cents.

"With few exceptions, however, the girl shows are painfully free from anything even remotely resembling sin. The chorus girls all wear heavy cotton rights and the comedians refrain from any jokes which might possibly shock the natives. The reason for this is that the carnival owner knows only too well that such an organization as his is constantly under suspicion and that if he is to keep the good will of those in authority he must conduct his affairs in a manner beyond reproach.

Ballyhoo Effective.
"Anyone who has ever attended a carnival can hardly forget the free outside exhibitions before the various attractions. Even so stable an attraction as Coney Island in New York finds that the ballyhoo method is invaluable. The interest of the gazing townspeople is first caught with the exhibition and then with the patter of the barker. At just the right moment the barker announces that the box office is open, goes beat, the barrel organ starts its moaning, a false sense of excitement is created by the noise and the spectators mechanically file into the tent.

"The student of etymology would find an enormously rich field were he to set himself to the collecting of the argot that is prevalent among the carnival people.

POSTAL OFFICERS INVESTIGATING PUGH'S ACTIVITIES
Greensboro, N. C., January 29.—(AP)—Postoffice inspectors have gone to Wentworth, Rockingham county seat, to check upon recent activities of Grady Pugh, held in jail there following a jewelry store robbery at Reidsville last week. It is learned here, however, that Pugh and his partner, a man named Pugh, who was arrested along with him, led to the suspicion that the prisoners might have been connected with the robbery. Nothing could be learned here tonight as to what information the inspectors obtained from Pugh.

Washington, January 29.—(AP)—Opposition to the bill of Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, to place Mexico under the quota provisions of the immigration law has developed in some of the border states and will be heard by the senate immigration committee Wednesday.

Taking cognizance of reports from Arizona, Southern California and southern Texas that protests were being prepared on the ground that the bill would rid the section of a great number of cotton workers, Senator Harris asserted that the purpose of the bill was to eliminate some of the country's most undesirable labor.

Charges 'Illiteracy.'
"The Mexicans engaged in work in the section are for most part illiterate," Harris asserted. "The cotton they produce is not an item compared with the harmful effect they have on communities in which they live."

"If the cotton crop was reduced by one and a half million bales, as charged would be the case if these Mexicans were excluded, the fact would serve to raise the price of cotton and would have beneficial effects on cotton growers generally."

GIRL TO 'SAVE PRINCE' BY NOT WEDDING HIM
London, January 29.—(United Press)—The Empire News prints today that it is to be an interview with Miss Nancy Miller, of Seattle, in which she declares that her marriage with the former wealthy maharajah of Indore will not take place.

The interview quotes the American girl as saying that "I reached my decision not to marry him because I will not be a millstone around the neck of my prince, which is what I should be if I agreed to his insistence to marry in the face of an array of opposing forces."

Still Loves 'Her Prince.'
According to the Empire News, Miss Miller also said: "Some malicious persons are saying that the prince backed out. That is not true. The decision is mine and mine only, though I know I shall never love any other man as I love my prince."

The article does not state where and when Miss Miller was interviewed.

MARRIAGE WOULD EXCLUDE GIRL FROM U. S.
Seattle, Wash., January 29.—(AP)—When and if Nancy Ann Miller, Seattle girl, marries Prince Holkar, the former maharajah of Indore early in February, she will renounce her privilege of living again in the United States, Luther Weedon, United States commissioner of immigration here says.

Since the former maharajah already has two native wives, he, and with his latest wife, would be debarred from taking up a residence in America, the commissioner pointed out.

PADEREWSKI TICKETS IN STRONG DEMAND
Ticket sale for the Paderewski concert which opened at Phillips and Crew piano company last Thursday, will continue this week until the afternoon of the concert on Wednesday evening.

According to Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore, president of the club, on Saturday every seat in the balcony had been sold. There are still good seats in the dress circle and arena, while box seats are the same price as the best seats in the arena. The boxes seat four and six and may be secured for parties or single chairs. These chairs are elevated, giving excellent view of the stage.

Out-of-town reservations must be accompanied by money order or cashier's check plus return postage for tickets. Tickets will be held at the box office at the auditorium if possible, but not in the city.

12 MORE INJURED IN TRAIN WRECK DIE AT RANGOON
Rangoon, Burma, January 29.—(AP) Of 28 passengers who were injured in the wreck of a Mandalay-Rangoon train which plunged from a bridge 100 miles from here yesterday, 12 have died, bringing the death toll today to 32.

Forty bodies were recovered yesterday from the grotesquely piled debris, most of the casualties having occurred in the third-class coaches, chiefly with Indian and Burman victims.

DENTIST INJURED, CRUSHED BETWEEN TWO AUTOMOBILES
Pinned between his own automobile and another, which crashed into it Sunday afternoon, Dr. Roy A. Hunter, of 64 The Prado, prominent Atlanta dentist, was badly mangled about the body and his left leg broken in two places. Physicians at Davis-Fischer hospital, where Dr. Hunter was taken, do not think amputation will be necessary.

The accident, according to Call Officers P. C. Jones and H. A. Manus, occurred in a filling station at Tenth street and Fleetwood avenue. Dr. Hunter, the report said, had driven into the station and had walked to the rear of his car to read a gazette when an automobile driven by Mrs. A. B. Greenfield, of 702 Maple street, crashed into the rear of the parked car, pinning Dr. Hunter against the bumper.

A case of reckless driving was made against Mrs. Greenfield, who posted $1,000 bond.

BAR ASSOCIATION TO HOLD HEARINGS ON CAPITAL-LABOR

New York, January 29.—(AP)—A platform intended to bridge the gap between capital and labor, and so prevent wasteful interruption of industry, has been formulated by a committee on commerce of the American Bar association after years of study.

This platform, in the form of a declaration of policy concerning the prevention and disposition of industrial controversies, will be offered for discussion and consideration at public hearings to be held by a subcommittee on commerce on February 16 and 18. The hearings will be held in the New York bar association headquarters.

Here's Your Chance To Win $2,000.00

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION'S "COW" FIGURE GAME

$2,000.00 First Prize—$1,000.00 Second Prize—$500.00 Third Prize—

Twenty-five Cash Prizes in All—Amounting to $4,515.00

THIS CONTEST CLOSSES WEDNESDAY, FEB. 8

These big cash prizes are going to be given away to the lucky winners, and no one has a better chance than you if you will only make the proper effort. The object of the game is to see how much you can make the "COW" weigh by filling inside of the border representing the cow with figures "9."

How Much Can You Make the "COW" WEIGH?

THAT'S THE PROBLEM!

Try Your Hand at It by Writing the Figure "9" as Many Times as You Can Inside the Borderline of the "Cow."

Begin now on the game by clipping out the "cow" picture and start with lead pencil to filling in with the figure "9." You will find it absorbing fun, and every "9" that you write in the "cow" figure takes you further on your way to the big cash prizes that are to be given.

Be sure that the "9's" do not touch each other, nor touch the border of the cow. You may have additional copies of the "cow" picture by writing to the Cow Contest Dept., inclosing a stamped return envelope. The extra copies, however, will be on the same grade of paper as this is printed on.

You have a chance to earn $35.00, $250.00, $1,000.00 or $2,000.00, as explained and shown in the Prize List.

How to Win $2,000.00

It is not necessary to send a subscription, but by qualifying your entry into "How much can you make the cow weigh" game with one or two subscriptions, you can increase the amount of the prize money that you will receive if you are a winner. For instance, the first prize is $35.00, but if winner of first prize has qualified with one six months' subscription, the prize will be $250.00 instead of $35.00. If qualified with two annual subscriptions the prize would be $2,000.00 instead of $35.00, and so on with proportional increases throughout the entire prize list. In all there are 25 prizes, as shown in this announcement.

$35.00 Will be awarded to the winner of first prize in the figure representing the cow. If no subscription is sent to the daily and Sunday Constitution.

$250.00 instead of $35.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize provided one six months' subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution with $5.00 remittance is sent, new or renewal; second prize $200.00, third prize $100.00, etc. (See second column in prize list.)

$1,000.00 instead of $35.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize provided one annual subscription, new or renewal, to the daily and Sunday Constitution.

Observe These General Rules of the Contest!

1. All bona fide residents of Georgia and adjoining states may take part in this contest, except employees of The Atlanta Constitution and members of their families.
2. Contestants may submit as many different solutions as they desire. Payment of one of the three amounts designated in the prize list shall accompany each solution, but no contestant will be permitted to win more than one award. Once registered, a solution cannot be changed.
3. The first prize will be awarded to the person having the greatest sum total, which is to be determined by the sum of the figures "9" written in the space designated inside of the border forming the picture representing the cow, to the second greatest total second prize, third greatest total third prize, etc.
4. Any lead pencil may be used. All writing or drawing pens of artists or engravers or their like are barred, as ink cannot be used on this grade of paper without blurring. The figures "9" need not be perfect in shape, but must be complete. Write as small as you like with any ordinary lead pencil of standard make—just so each "9" is fully shaped. Figures can be in the space designated inside of the border forming the picture representing the cow, to the second greatest total second prize, third greatest total third prize, etc.
5. Copperplate type, shorthand, reproductions or reductions are barred, also duplicates of the original. Every "9" must actually be made by hand with any ordinary lead pencil of standard make, and must be discernible to the naked eye, meaning clear and distinct to a person of average good eyesight or equivalent. The natural eye by those who do not wear glasses, and ordinary reading glasses by those who wear glasses only quite allowed in filling in the figure "9." A "U" with either straight or curved tail is permissible.
6. Every contestant must give the correct total of the weight of the cow

INSTALLMENT I.

When Esther rang the bell of Numero 86, Route de Grasse, she felt within her that pleasant sort of stage fright—a mixture of dread and exhilaration—which one is apt to experience when venturing into the unknown. The thrill might be out of all proportion to the prosaic character of her mission—for what is there exciting in applying for a job, as a doctor's assistant?—yet there was no gain-saying the fact that when this door confronting her opened, anything, everything, might happen. That is the way youth regards things.

Opportunity—a door open in front of one? So, in earlier years her Latin teacher had drilled on the inner meaning of the word. Esther smiled reminiscently and congratulated herself that she was not going trawling back to her work in America, choosing instead when she found a door open to enter and explore on the other side.

Numero 86 was a conventional and dignified villa, non-committal in appearance, like a hundred others. Clean windows blinked in the sunshine, the doorstep was chalky white, the brass plate on the lintel glittered with the inscription, "Dr. Gregory Sartorius, M. D." Beside the gate a minuscule shook out its yellow plumes against the sky. Minuscule—in February! . . . New York, reflected Esther, was in the clutch of a blizzard. She could picture it now, with its stark, ice-ribbed streets, its towering buildings, a mausoleum of frozen stone and dirty snow. As for flowers—why, even a spray of that minuscule in a frosty-florist's window would be absurdly expensive, one would pay . . .

"Vous desirez, mademoiselle?" She turned with a start to find the door open, framing the squat figure of a man servant, a brigand in appearance, French of the Midi; black hair grew low on his forehead, his beetling brows met over sullen shiny eyes which scanned her with a hostile gaze. Diffidently she mustered her all-too-seamy French.

nurse preferred, to assist him in his work. Good references essential. Applicants may call between two and four."

It sounded just the thing. Suitable jobs were plentiful in Cannes, her three days' search had been sufficient to convince her of that fact. She hoped she would land this one, if not, it would probably mean New York again, and the blizzard. She hated to be beaten.

A shadow darkened the glass doors. She sprang to her feet, slightly disconcerted to feel that the doctor had been silently inspecting her from without, perhaps for several seconds. Again she was impatient with herself for the odd suggestion of alarm which came upon her in the doorway. She was not usually nervous—a this.

What an immense man he was! That was her first thought as he paused for an instant in the doorway, scrutinizing her. Big and rather clumsily built, with awkward, slow movements. He had a student's stoop and his skin was brownish and dull, his whole heavy person suggesting the sedentary worker. His low forehead receding into a bald head, was oddly flatish in shape. It reminded Esther of something—she couldn't think what. He stood with his head slightly lowered and regarded her deliberately, appraisingly, before he uttered a word. She could hear his breathing.

"Good afternoon, Miss . . ."

"My name is Rowe. I've come about the advertisement, doctor."

"You are American, I see."

"Well, Canadian, as a matter of fact. I trained in New York."

"A nurse, then. Where did you train?"

"St. Luke's."

"She thought this made a good impression."

"What are you doing in France?"

"I came here as companion to a patient of mine who has been traveling alone. We stopped a week in Paris, then I brought her here, where she met some friends with whom she went to Algeria. It was arranged before-hand, I was only to come as far as Cannes. I've been here a week now, and I was going back to New York."

Tunney's Summer Program To Be Known This Week

Jack Sharkey's Representative Goes to Miami

Will Gibson, Tunney's Manager, Also on Hurried Trip to Florida.

BY EDWARD J. NEIL.
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)
New York, January 29.—(AP)—Fistic forecast indicated today that the much-discussed summer heavyweight program of Gene Tunney will become public property within the coming week.

In answer to urgent summons from the heavyweight titleholder, Billy Gibson, his manager, packed today for a hurried trip to Miami, Fla., where Tunney had been in consultation with Tex Rickard. The promoter also had called Jimmy Johnson, 10 per cent manager of Jack Sharkey, to the southland. Both are scheduled to leave New York Monday night, arriving in Florida shortly before Rickard must name Tunney's opponent for at least one fifth-month fight this summer.

On February 1, the promoter also must post $100,000 to bind the fight. Summoning of Johnson indicated to pugilistic elite that negotiations were under way to include in the champion's two-fight program, a bout with Sharkey if the Boston good succeeds in whipping Johnny Lisko March 12, and the winner of the Tom Heeney-Jack Delaney battle scheduled for March 1.

To Jack Dempsey, former titleholder, is conceded the right to battle Tunney in his second title defense of the year provided the champion successfully hurdles the elimination tournament winner. Rickard's negotiations have been hampered by Dempsey's failure to indicate whether he wishes to return to the ring for a third battle with the big marine.

Managerial jockeying between the handlers of Sharkey and Joe Jacobs, pilot of Jack Delaney, apparently has resulted in the Boston good obtaining the post position Jacobs has threatened to call off the match with Heeney, however, if his gladiator is overlooked this week when Tunney's first opponent is named. Tom Heeney likewise has threatened to bolt the tournament.

Possibility that Tunney would waive naming of an opponent on February 1 appeared likely due to the absence of the necessary sanction from Florida shores. Rickard has asserted that the "real news" probably will wait his return to New York within the next three weeks.

ALL IS SILENT DOWN IN FLORIDA

Miami Beach, Fla., January 29.—(AP)—With nobody yet selected as his next opponent, Gene Tunney, world champion, will begin intensive training tomorrow in preparation for the prospective bout, after several weeks of rest and gain.

Sparring partners, reported to have started from the north last week, had not arrived tonight.

Meanwhile, Tex Rickard, the man slated to produce a challenger, played golf and swim and kept a tight rein on his tongue. Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager, will be heard only on Wednesday at which time general opinion was that the silence of the Tunney and Rickard camps would be smashed.

There will not be any heavyweight situation until February 1, and then it will be a first-class one if reports not officially confirmed by either the promoter or Tunney are believed. That is said to be the day on which Rickard must name the champion's next opponent and the date and place of the fight, and post a minimum sized fortune as forfeit for something or other.

Paolino Kayoes Chilean Heavy

Mexico City, January 29.—(United News.)—Paolino Kayoes today won the "heavyweight" championship of Latin America by knocking out Quinton Romero Rojas, of Chile, in the third round of their scheduled 15-round fight before 40,000 spectators in Mexico City's biggest bull ring.

While the brief fight was a disappointment to the excited spectators, it was considered a tremendous financial success by the promoters, who netted $20,000 profit out of a $50,000 gate.

The Basque heavyweight, who easily outclassed his opponent, took the aggressive from the start, driving the Chilean along the ropes. Paolino pounded his veteran opponent's body with hard lefts, the Chilean being content to fight on the defensive.

This Golfer Will Know All About Cocoanuts Now

Miami, Fla., January 29.—(Special.)—How milk gets in cocoanuts has long caused men to ponder.

Now credit Mr. Victor Murdock, editor of the eminent Wichita, Kansas, Eagle, with solving the question. All because he won a prize in the first championship golf tournament for national newspaper editors held here.

Third place went to Mr. Murdock who turned in a card of 99. His prize is two cocoanuts a year for three years to be earned by writing a learned dissertation on the subject of "How Milk Got Into Cocoanuts."

H. M. Crist, managing editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, won first prize with a card of 88. E. Barry Farris, of the International News Service, New York branch, was second with 96. The two will be awarded silver loving cups.

Murdock is planning an intensive study of cocoanuts.

Jones To Meet Fast Grappler Here Thursday

Tom Marvin, Osage Indian, Wrestles Texan in Mat Headliner.

Tom Marvin, the Osage Indian, who opposes Paul Jones in the main event of the wrestling show at the city auditorium Thursday night, is the fastest man that Jones has met in Atlanta, so Matchmaker John Contos declares.

"Marvin weighs 200 pounds and he gets around the ring just as fast as Jones. In addition to that speed as set he uses practically the same tactics as Jones, such as breaking holds with holds," Contos explains.

Marvin is expected to reach Atlanta early Tuesday for his match and Contos is making arrangements for the Indian to engage in one or two public workouts. One of the most favorable marks on the Indian's performance is that he is a good wrestler.

Jimmy Londoos, the well-known Greek grappler.

While the Jones-Marvin go is billed as the main event, Contos believes that the semi-windup between Scotty McDougal and Stanley Stasiak, the Polish giant, will be equally as good. Stasiak is making his first appearance here.

Stasiak, despite the fact that he tips the scales at 240 pounds, is fast, attaining his dizzying speed by working out against middleweight wrestlers, who rely more on speed than he does brute strength.

In the opinion of the show the fans will have another chance to see Ivan Mickaloff, who at one time was considered one of the greatest wrestlers in the game. In his two bouts here Mickaloff has demonstrated that he has lost none of the skill that earned him so close to the top in the world.

Mickaloff will be pitted against Andy Brown.

Tickets for the Thursday night show will be placed on the market at Chess Place, the Piedmont Hotel and at the Piedmont hotel cigar stand.

Tourney Practice Sees High Scores

San Antonio, Texas, January 29.—(AP)—Will Bill Melhior, of Pittsburgh; Joe Turnesa, of New York, and Larry Nabholz, of Cleveland, led the field today in practice rounds for the Texas open golf tournament which starts Thursday. All three shot 72's, one over par, and for a time Melhior threatened to break his course record of 63.

In spite of ideal golfing conditions today most of the pros who made practice rounds turned in high scores, or at least high scores for pros.

There were many 75's, 76's and 78's. MacDonald Smith, of New York, shot a 73, as did Harold Long, of Oklahoma City. Willie Hunter, of Los Angeles, had a 76 and Bobby Cruikshank, of Purchase, N. Y., a 79.

Colorful Five To Mix Here With Celtics

Rail-Lites, of Chattanooga, Bring Strong Team To Meet Game Champs.

One of the south's most colorful teams will be seen in action to assist the New York Celtics in giving the Atlanta fans a demonstration of world's championship basketball next Friday night at the auditorium.

The Rail-Lites have been giving Chattanooga high-class basketball for five seasons. Three of those years they were champions of Tennessee, one year they tied with the Nashville Ramblers for the honor and last year they took a long drive while Bill Redd was doing some reconstruction. Bill found that two forwards, of somewhat reduced stature, would do against six footers who were equally as fast so he set about to hunt for some taller men to do his scoring.

As a result of the shift in the lineup finds the Rail-Lites with the best team in history this year. Moreover, Redd went up to the big tent for a while last winter and spent some time alongside Nat Holman, absorbing much inside basketball and this year he has put Celtic style into the Rail-Lites. All through the years Redd had used the pivot system with the center or running guard dribbling down the floor and the forwards cutting in under the basket. It was nice to watch but had two fatal defects—it was too easy to break up once the opposing team diagnosed the play, and it wasn't hard to diagnose the constant strain of running down the floor and back for its full length made it hard on the forwards.

Five-Man System.

So the Rail-Lites this year have adopted the five-man attack system, and are playing a man-to-man defense instead of the five man defense which was introduced a few years ago.

In order to gain height for his team, Redd this year added Jack Wright, of the University of Chattanooga team for four years, and "Chuck" Braidwood, a Chicago athlete who has been at the university but is a non-scholarship player.

Wright, exceptional student, great foot ball kicker, developed into a flashy center in his last two years before he was drafted. He is a Georgia boy, his brother, Whitlow Wyatt, pitching for the Celatona team.

These introductions made, Redd inserted Wyatt at forward and moved the veteran Holman Phillips, who has been with the team since its inception, up from running guard to forward. Redd continues to play center, Braidwood has taken the guard assignment vacated by Phillips and is righted the best floor guard Chattanooga has seen in years. Harry Cate, a St. Paul guard, on the I. C. team for four seasons and once picked as All-Southern after a tournament in Atlanta, is also playing.

In the opinion of the show the fans will get their first glimpse of the world's champions of basketball, with a single opponent to provide some competition.

The Spalding girls face a heavy schedule this week along with the A. A. U. team. On Wednesday the club plays J. C. team on Saturday they mix with Georgia, and on Sunday they play with Georgia, and on the club all through the season, this means two series of games for them.

The Georgia Power company girls are leading the league by the margin of one victory and a win from the Crum & Foster team on Wednesday will mean a clinching of the Spalding tag. On the other hand, a win for Crum & Foster will give them a tie for first place and the upper hand in the race for a possible title game at 7:00 on Wednesday may well be considered the critical game of the season in this league.

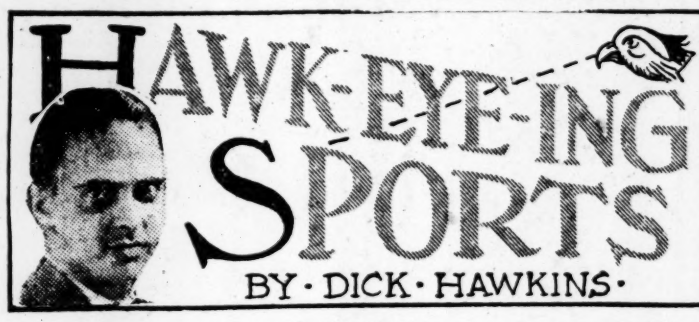

Although the first of three meets which Dr. Peltzer desires to enter is the Millrose games, scheduled for Thursday at Madison Square Garden, the foreign relations committee set Wednesday as the day for its conference with the visiting athletes.

Thus, Dr. Peltzer will not know whether he is to be permitted to run.

Basketball Tonic.
Most of us are burdened with likes and dislikes. If we weren't, we wouldn't care if they served us with sweet potato pie when we asked for pumpkin. But we do care, and it's the same way with sports. Some of us like our football and live from one season to the next continually bemoaning the fact that all the seasons do not assume the brown complexion of fall. Others think all games should be played with a baseball bat and a spit-ball, but there are still others who think the only game in the world is the one hooked to a back-board on the basketball court.

That is as it should be. If we all liked the same sport best either C. C. Pyle or Tex Rickard would starve to death. Now this particular week is set aside to the followers of the court game originated out in the middle west several years ago and which became known as basketball because the original game was played with potato baskets.

The sports writer is supposed to be "wild about" all sports and unfortunately some sports make most sports writers wild—literally speaking. Basketball is not one of these sports with us but it is not our favorite among the major pastimes. This week, however, we are looking forward to several nights of enjoyment mixed with more or less grief in the form of pictorial scribbling for the paper.

Among other things we are looking forward to Friday night, when the famous New York Celtics invade the capital of the southland for a game with the Chattanooga Rail-Lites. We must confess that our knowledge of the Celtics was limited largely to publicity sources until Saturday night, but now we have some first-hand information about this aggregation and the Rail-Lites which leads us to believe that the fans are in for a treat.

Between halves of the A. A. C. Mercer game we were in the locker room conversing with Tom Stale and Harry Robinson. Tom was recalling a game he had witnessed, in which the famous professional team had participated. Tom is of the very frank opinion that some of the things they do with a basketball just can't be done. He declares that they play tricks with that big piece of inflated leather that would arouse the green god of jealousy in the great Blackstone or any other sleight-of-hand artist. And Tom's opinion about anything remotely resembling basketball is worth listening to.

To confine one's enthusiasm to the professional game would be rather narrow with this week of major events on the calendar. The Tech High-Vienna game and the A. A. C. Georgia and the clash between the clubbers of Pryor street and Carnegie Way, can hardly be overlooked.

In short words, it seems that the fans of Atlanta will get a fine dose of sport this week if they are so constituted that a basketball game acts as a tonic.

These Tech-Georgia Games.
There's something funny about this Tech-Georgia affair of athletics. Just when the Jackets haven't much chance along comes a chance disguised by an avalanche of contrary dope. That victory of the Jackets Saturday night at Athens must have been a great sight to behold. The gaining of 10 points in three minutes at any time in a Tech-Georgia basketball game is remarkable but the same feat in the LAST three minutes must have been remarkable.

The first of the Tech-Georgia games was a two-hour affair at the Harkness billiard parlor, Peachtree and Walton.

Peltzer Doesn't Know Yet If He Will Run

A. A. U. Has German Runner's Case in Worse Muddle Than Ever; Is Summoned To Conference in New York.

BY FRANK GETTY.
United News Sports Editor.
New York, January 29.—Having apparently made more of a muddle than ever of the case of Dr. Otto Peltzer, members of the foreign relations committee of the A. A. U. returned here from Boston tonight, announcing that the noted German middle distance runner had been summoned to a conference in this city on Wednesday.

Dr. Peltzer, summoned today with suggestions contained in a telegram sent him by the committee last week, and requested permission to compete in three indoor meets this month.

For some reason as yet unascertained, the A. A. U. officials declined to grant this permission, and Daniel J. Ferris, newly elected secretary, sent the German champion a telegram, calling him summarily to New York.

Suspension.

Although the first of three meets which Dr. Peltzer desires to enter is the Millrose games, scheduled for Thursday at Madison Square Garden, the foreign relations committee set Wednesday as the day for its conference with the visiting athletes.

Thus, Dr. Peltzer will not know whether he is to be permitted to run.

The Millrose A. A., which has been pulling wires and sending Mel Shroyer, its coach, flying about the country doing everything possible to obtain permission for the German star to compete next Thursday.

This announcement forecast a possible clash between the Teuton star and the A. A. U. officials over which three meets he shall participate in.

field team this year is lined up in the all-American team selections for 1927, made by Daniel J. Ferris, of New York, new secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic union, and publisher in the 1928 edition of Spalding's official athletic almanac.

Hambright, Wilson Mix At Ringside

Out-of-Town Sock Merchants Expected To Put On Good Show Tuesday.

Home talent will be in the majority among the pugilistically inclined young gentlemen who perform Tuesday night at the Ringside Club, Broad and Mitchell, when Matchmaker Jimmy Mayson puts on what he says is his best show here yet.

The main bout, however, will be enacted by two out-of-town pugilists, Hambright, a well-stocked sock merchant from Birmingham, and Red Wilson, adept gloveman from New Orleans, will meet in a 10-round affair.

This, if you had an attentive ear to Mr. Mayson, will be one of the best scraps Atlanta's fight-going citizenry, which is growing daily, has had a chance to witness in some few years.

Young Mr. Wilson, weighing 163 pounds, has transported his frame over various parts of this section of the country and fought innumerable middleweights who are considered to be good. Wilson packs a hefty punch and should make a good opponent for the Battling Boon, Mr. Hambright.

Hambright's Record.

Hambright has a rather attention-grabbing record himself and has twice dominated at the Ringside that he knew what he was talking about when he styled himself a good fighter. He has met Dixie Sullivan four times, Battling Kelly, Dummy Barrington and Jimmy Cox, this at Memphis, the fight ending in a draw.

Hambright will weigh 161 pounds when he meets Wilson. Both boys will arrive today to finish up training for their bout.

Rest of Card.

The rest of the card, which embraces 20 rounds, will be two local pugilistic prodigies, Battling Stein and John Harper in an 8-round semi-windup. Stein has performed many times in Atlanta since he came to this city. He doesn't always win, but he nearly always manages to make an interesting and sometimes bloody, scrap out of them.

Two six-rounders will wind up the card. In one of them Battling Athens of Atlanta, and a lad from the west coast, Jackie Fernandez, of Los Angeles, will mix.

The other will mix the clubbers of an all-Atlanta production in which John Runyon battles Carter Morgan.

The first bout will start promptly at 8:20. Tickets are on hand at Harkness billiard parlor, Peachtree and Walton.

William and Mary Student Captains 3 School Teams

Williamsburg, Va., January 29.—(AP)—The college of William and Mary has four athletic captains and three of them answer to the name of "Mel" Davis.

While working his way through school, Davis has found time to play football, basketball and track. His ability resulted in unanimous election as captain of the three teams.

Davis played varsity football two years before being elected captain. He was one of the backfield stars last season and most passes found him on the receiving end.

Center is his position on the basketball team, while on the track he is an all-around star. Incidentally, he has a high scholastic record.

Smithies Prep For Vienna Hi Tilt Tuesday

Good Game To Be Played Here When Two Meet on Club Floor.

Tech High's Smithies, under the watchful eye of Gabe Tolbert, the coach, will take a final practice prance on the Henry Grady court this afternoon in preparation for an all-important basketball game with the "Vander Five" of Vienna, Va., at the Athletic Club Tuesday night.

It probably will be the most outstanding game for Tech High this season. Vienna last year swept through the middle part of Georgia, having over teams one after another.

Smithies will meet the team from the boys came to Athens for the state tournament and won it. More being known about them.

Followed, a trip to Chicago and the national high school tournament. Vienna was beaten in the finals in a fast and good game, Peggy Campbell was selected as all-American forward. Everyone heard of Vienna then. This year the Viennas, minus Peggy, have started again at 8:20. Tickets are on hand at Harkness billiard parlor, Peachtree and Walton.

But when Vienna comes to town Tuesday, the Smiths game hopes to check the mad rush to fame and headlines of the middle Georgians. The five men composing the Tech High Varsity this season are the same five who composed it last year.

Tolbert and White lead down the forward positions. Both are good point getters. Heavy Hammond plays center, and well. One could hardly ask for a better pair of outside players.

The Smithies have lost one game this year. That was in Columbus, Ga., to the high school team of that city. Local prep cage outfits have fallen before the onward march of the Tech High players, but the team they met Tuesday night on the Athletic floor will be the best yet encountered.

Giants Begin Training Within Next Two Weeks

New York, January 29.—(United News.)—The first squad of New York Giants will leave for Hot Springs two weeks from today, in charge of Secretary Jim Tierney.

The first batch of Yankees is due at St. Petersburg February 26. Stan Coveleskie, veteran pole, bent upon another "comeback," will be there, while George Piggas already has reported.

Eppa Rixey Signs.

Cincinnati, January 29.—(AP)—Eppa Rixey, Cincinnati Reds' southpaw pitcher, has signed a contract for the current season at a reduced salary. The announcement today said that Rixey, like most of the Reds' high-salaried players, was given a stiff salary cut but that he agreed to terms without delay.

However, Pitcher Carl Mays, who also was sent a contract at a reduced rate, has returned the document unsigned.

Southern Loop Heads Gather At New Orleans

Heinemann To Submit 1928 Schedule—Season Opens April 1.

New Orleans, January 29.—(AP)—Southern association baseball club owners meet here tomorrow to adopt the 1928 playing season schedule that provides for the split season, an innovation. The draft schedule was completed at a meeting here several weeks ago of the schedule committee and will be piloted through the customary wrangle as to playing dates that will follow its submission by A. J. Heinemann, president of the New Orleans Pelicans. No unusual difficulty is expected to be encountered in securing its ratification.

"A population of 500,000 by 1935" is Atlanta's Slogan. Let's all pull together for a Greater Atlanta.

The Constitution's Weekly Business Review

EDITED BY M. D. GLEASON

There is hardly a need or a want that cannot be filled in Atlanta's stores and factories.

Callaway Firm Has Good Organization, Keeps Busy

It has been said that when we learn Monarch weather strips. Now they live in comfortable warm homes and have nearly a third of their fuel bill every year and also a substantial sum in the cleaning of draperies, curtains and other fabrics.

The Monarch weather strip has so many good features that it behooves prudent building owners to look into their special advantages and get from R. M. Callaway and Son, who sell and install them in Atlanta, a long list of people in and around Atlanta who have had these long life weather strips installed in their homes and public buildings.

This Callaway firm is composed of R. M. Callaway, of the old Oglethorpe county family of Callaways, and his son, Frank Callaway, and they are counted among Atlanta's most sterling citizens. That means when they sell somebody a service or a commodity, the buyer knows that he or she will get full value for the money.

R. M. Callaway and Son have a good organization at 1177 W. Peachtree street, N. E. Many of their expert workmen have been with them for many years, due to the lines they sell and install they keep busy all the year around. At this time one of their outside crews is busy installing some handsome Kauffman radiator shields. In these metal radiator shields, like the weather strips, they furnish full value for money, and, when asked, will give two years' time to pay for material and service.

In these Kauffman radiator shields they carry an extra large assortment from a little cheap one that partially covers the steam coils to the most elaborate Console type, that will fit in with the better grades of fine furniture in anybody's home. This firm sells and installs these shields in many shapes and designs and they can cover up unsightly steam pipes no matter what their shape or location.

R. M. Callaway and Son have been selling and installing the best types of wood and metal screens in Atlanta for more than a quarter of a century. Even at this early date one crew is busy installing screens and when this job is done it will be just another added to the several hundred other good screen jobs well done.

Many years ago this firm began installing Venetian blinds and many of the good blind lines to be seen in the large buildings in Georgia and Florida were put up by them. No matter whether the Callaway firm put on your weather strips, parlor or office radiator shield, put up your fly screens or screen your front or back porch, or put up Venetian blinds to let only the light of the sun without its glare flood your home or office rooms, they do each job right, without profiteering. The new customers they get this year will be satisfied customers next year.

Big Lumber Mill Company Preparing for Busy Season

"We are looking for the best spring business we have ever had," Messrs. Decker and Willingham, of the Decker-Willingham Lumber company, of 555 Wells street, said Saturday. This statement is based on prospects in sight and the amount of contracts already closed.

"Then again," said E. G. Decker, "there is a certain feeling of optimism in the air, a feeling that 1934 will be a great year and we are making every preparation for a record business. Our business so far this month has been greater than for the corresponding periods of previous years. We have completed the lumber and mill work for eight buildings and houses located on Elm street, Stevens street, Avon avenue and Stokes avenue.

"The home on Avon avenue is for Mr. and Mrs. Harper and the plans and specifications called for new work in the mill work line. The one on Stokes avenue is for Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts and when completed will be a credit to the owners and neighborhood in which it is located. Both of these homes were designed by C. H. Bowden, construction engineer, and are in keeping with the other fine buildings designed by Mr. Bowden.

"We also wish to announce," said E. D. Willingham, "that C. E. Simmons, our former outside salesman and estimator, will be with us again after the first of February, Mr.

Simmons will be remembered by his friends as a leading fraternal man and was very active with the Elks patrol.

"The Decker-Willingham company is better equipped than ever to handle orders for all kinds of special mill work and it does not matter how particular the specifications may be, we have the men, equipment and material to fill the order and any contractor, builder or repair man who needs anything in the lumber or mill work line would do well if he gave our concern a call over Walnut 6431 as we have had many years of experience in the lumber business and are ever ready when helpful advice is needed."

Simple Device

is the Cure for High Fuel Costs

You have wasted nearly half your fuel this winter if the doors and windows of your home are not equipped with Monarch Metal Weatherstrip.

This wasted fuel money would pay for Monarch in two to three years and the saving continue for the life of your building. Such is the experience of thousands of home and building owners throughout the country.

The reason is simple. Science has shown that more than half the fuel burned is consumed to heat air that leaks thru cracks around windows and doors. Monarch stops this waste; giving you a cleaner, more comfortable home while saving you money.

MONARCH 5 feature Weatherstrip

One tube (a) on a floating seam, fastened at (b) on the frame, slides in a tube (c) fastened to the sash.

Only Monarch, with its patented principle, gives you all of these features. It is Interlocking with Two-members, one fastened to the frame and the other to the sash, completely sealing the crack. The Tubular metal members have a machine-made factory-fit so that Monarch does not depend on skill of installation for its efficiency. It is self-adjusting keeping the cracks permanently sealed regardless of shrinking or swelling of woodwork. It is guaranteed to reduce leaking air to a fixed minimum and maintain this efficiency for the life of the building.

MATTRESS COMPANY

JANUARY BEST IN MANY YEARS

"We are getting off with a better start this year than in any other since we have been in business," said H. R. Simon, president of the Superior Mattress company, of 835 Bankhead avenue, when seen Friday by a representative of the business review department.

"January has been better this year than it has ever been with us in the seven years we have been in this location," continued Mr. Simon. "The business has been better than it has ever been with us in the seven years we have been in this location."

"Then again," continued Mr. Simon, "an establishment like ours can't afford to be in business for a year and a half without making a profit. This means the mattress they slept on one night can be called for by our outside man and estimator in the morning and returned as a new mattress in time to sleep on the next night. No one in that household is put to the slightest inconvenience while we do the work."

"The mattress business, like all other old-established businesses, has been making some wonderful strides the last few years," spoke up W. D. Myers, secretary of the firm, who just came in. "And with the new methods of renovating the cotton and other filling, as well as extracting all the dust and parasites and making the filling clean and lively again, and in the matter of covering and ticking we now have as many styles as the modern young ladies. Some of these fancy coverings are very beautiful and it sometimes seems a pity that they must be so completely covered when they are new."

The Superior Mattress company is rendering a satisfactory service to the people of Atlanta and vicinity and a call on their place, Room 9274, will receive immediate response. A representative in a fast service truck can soon be at any house in Fulton and adjoining counties with a large number of covering samples to select from and the owner will no longer have to sleep on a hard lumpy "dead" mattress when they do the work.

JANUARY BEST IN MANY YEARS

"We are getting off with a better start this year than in any other since we have been in business," said H. R. Simon, president of the Superior Mattress company, of 835 Bankhead avenue, when seen Friday by a representative of the business review department.

"January has been better this year than it has ever been with us in the seven years we have been in this location," continued Mr. Simon. "The business has been better than it has ever been with us in the seven years we have been in this location."

"Then again," continued Mr. Simon, "an establishment like ours can't afford to be in business for a year and a half without making a profit. This means the mattress they slept on one night can be called for by our outside man and estimator in the morning and returned as a new mattress in time to sleep on the next night. No one in that household is put to the slightest inconvenience while we do the work."

"The mattress business, like all other old-established businesses, has been making some wonderful strides the last few years," spoke up W. D. Myers, secretary of the firm, who just came in. "And with the new methods of renovating the cotton and other filling, as well as extracting all the dust and parasites and making the filling clean and lively again, and in the matter of covering and ticking we now have as many styles as the modern young ladies. Some of these fancy coverings are very beautiful and it sometimes seems a pity that they must be so completely covered when they are new."

The Superior Mattress company is rendering a satisfactory service to the people of Atlanta and vicinity and a call on their place, Room 9274, will receive immediate response. A representative in a fast service truck can soon be at any house in Fulton and adjoining counties with a large number of covering samples to select from and the owner will no longer have to sleep on a hard lumpy "dead" mattress when they do the work.

PARIS COMMUNIST DEPUTIES MAY GET OFFICIAL PARDONS

LYONS, France, January 29.—(United Press.)—The government probably will pardon the five communist members of the chamber of deputies now in prison or being sought. Minister of Arts Edouard Herriot told the radical socialist federation here today. "After eluding capture for more than a month, two of the communist deputies were arrested recently when they appeared in the chamber. The other three failed to appear and have been in hiding. They are wanted for communist utterances which were allegedly subversive to the government."

REDISCOUNT RATE BATTLE IS RAGING

BY R. L. BARNUM.

New York, January 29.—London cables report Chairman Reginald McKenna, of the Midland bank, as saying to his shareholders at this week's annual meeting: "The development of the central bank policy in the United States has shown that, while gold may be retained as a medium for making international payments, it can be deprived of its functions as an ultimate standard of value. . . . We find on examination of American statistics that in recent years movements of the price level have never been allowed to proceed far. . . . The American price level is not affected by gold movements, but is controlled by the policy of the reserve banks in expanding and contracting credit."

THE Equitable Trust
is a commercial bank offering every facility and convenience of the large metropolitan banking institution. It has shown a gain of more than 70% in net deposits during the last seven years.

The Equitable Abroad

Organized in 1871, The Equitable Trust Company, in a half-century's growth, has built up one of the most complete and far-reaching foreign banking services offered by an American trust company. This company has three European offices, two in London and one in Paris, an office in Mexico City and, through its subsidiary, the Equitable Eastern Banking Corporation, is represented in two large central markets of the Far East, Hongkong and Shanghai. These offices and a highly developed system of more than 11,000 correspondents have gained for The Equitable an unusual prestige among foreign banks and business men.

The Equitable's Domestic Organization

In addition to four offices in New York City, The Equitable's domestic organization includes district representatives' offices in seven of the country's key industrial cities. Two of these, in Boston and Washington, are offices of its subsidiary, The Equitable Securities Company, Inc. These offices operate for the convenience of correspondent banks and local business houses carrying New York accounts. Close contact with the home office enables our representatives to offer valuable facilities for supplying international credit information, for arranging every kind of foreign banking transaction, and for executing orders in the security markets of the world.

Business houses, whose broad activities and interests require a New York banking connection, are invited to communicate with our local representative or New York office regarding the advantages of an account with The Equitable.

In France Greater Possibilities for Business and Investment Are Opening

The French Republic has recently cancelled the restriction on export of capital. Our own State Department is now permitting the financing of French corporations.

These developments should prove important factors for the restoration of normal conditions resulting in increased activity in our business and financial dealings with France.

With its complete banking and investment facilities in Paris and unusually well rounded bond and foreign banking departments in this country, The Equitable is in position to serve investors interested in French securities and business men who desire either to establish relations in France or to broaden the scope of their present activities.

U. S. FINDS COTTON OUTLOOK IS 'GOOD'

Washington, January 30.—(AP)—The agricultural industry as a whole "may anticipate a domestic market situation for the 1928 production at least equal to that of the present winter, with the possibility of some improvement," the department of agriculture said today in its annual farm outlook report.

After analyzing the demand for major crops, the foreign and domestic market, credit, labor and equipment, the report summarized the condition of the country as a whole with the statement that "some improvement is expected if farmers avoid expansion of production and continue their efforts to balance production with demand."

A better balance prevailed in 1927 between the different lines of agricultural products than in any other recent year, with the exception of feed crops in relation to live stock, the report said.

Cotton Crop Size Uncertain

The outlook for the 1928 cotton crop was elaborated on as follows: "When American cotton growers begin to market the 1928 crop, it is probable that they will meet the relatively favorable condition of a smaller carryover than last year and a demand situation about the same as for the 1927 crop."

"The most uncertain factor in the outlook is the size of the 1928 crop. Cotton growers have in their 'weather' crops, resulting from overplanting in 1927."

"The yield per acre will depend to a material extent upon the abundance of soil moisture, which undoubtedly entered hibernation in the fall of 1927 in larger numbers and with greater vitality than for several years."

Hasten Maturity of Crops.
"In the areas where fertilizer is customarily used, it is an important factor both in increasing yields and in hastening the maturity of the crop."

"Any increases in the use of fertilizer should be by application of more pounds per acre rather than upon more acres. In planning this, however, the individual farmer should be guided to some extent by the total purchases of fertilizer for use in cotton production as any material increase in the use of fertilizer may have a material effect upon total production."

"Cotton producers should not be misled by the higher prices received for the 1927 crop, as compared with that of 1926, to increase acreage. An area equal to last year with a ten-year average abandonment and yields per acre would result in a crop only slightly larger than last year's."

Large Increase Expected.
"But if yield per acre should equal that of the past four years, during which weevil damage was only about half of that of the past ten years, the crop would be considerably larger than last year."

"Such an increase in the crop, however, would be probably offset by the decrease in the carryover at the end of this year, and would make a total world supply not much different from the total world's available supply of American cotton as of August 1, 1927. To the extent to which cotton growers increase their acreage over that planted in 1927 they will tend to reduce the total returning 1928 crop."

"The purchasing power of foreign consumers and the foreign demand for American cotton in the season 1928-29 is likely about the same as that of the present marketing season. It seems likely that improvement in the business situation and textile mill activity in France and Italy will largely offset any depression that may occur in Germany and other central European countries, while conditions in Great Britain and Japan probably will be no worse than they are now."

Indian Crop Is Larger

"Present prospects are that the Indian cotton crop will be a little larger than last year, but the Egyptian crop may be smaller. Conditions appear to be favorable to some increase in planting in other foreign countries, but any probable increase in total production of cotton in these countries will not be an important factor in the demand for American cotton."

"Over-production of sweet potatoes occurred in 1927 because of continued heavy planting in the eastern commercial region accompanied by a widespread shift from cotton to sweet potatoes in the south. A substantial reduction in acreage is needed and such a readjustment may be expected to result from the much lower price received for the 1927 sweet potato crop and from the highest prices of alternative crops."

"Peach growers under normal conditions may expect heavy production and difficult marketing conditions during the next few years. The potential bearing capacity of orchards in the southern area is so great that a considerable reduction in number of the older unprofitable trees would result in a higher farm value for the crop."

Peasants Conditions Explained.
"Peasant growers in the Virginia-North Carolina section should not allow present prices to cause them to overplant. Virginia type nuts, a maintenance this year of the 1927 acreage of Spanish and runner types of peanuts in the south can be expected to result in prices reasonably satisfactory to the grower."

"The dominating influences in the general tobacco situation are the steadily increases in consumption of cigarettes at home and abroad, heavy production and increasing stocks of flue-cured types, and decreased stocks in most other types of tobacco. The outlook for flue-cured if acreage is increased is decidedly unfavorable. For burley, one sucker, Maryland, and most cigar types the outlook is favorable. If acreage is increased, the outlook for dark flue types does not justify material changes in acreage."

"Present prospects for sugar point to a continuation of large world production with prices at approximately the present level through another season where present prices and profitable acreage may be maintained and increased."

"Rice acreage, though reduced last year, produced a large crop and further reduction in acreage seems advisable."

'LEGAL ERRORS' HIT PRICES ON CURB BY REMUS EXPERT ARE ADVANCING

Cincinnati, January 29.—(AP)—

Errors in legal procedure are responsible for many miscarriages of justice under plea of not guilty on grounds of insanity. Dr. Charles E. Kiehl, professor of neurology of the University of Cincinnati, said in an address here tonight.

Dr. Kiehl was a member of the commission that returned findings of sanity in the recent case of George Remus, former "bootleg king," although the jury in Remus' trial of the slaying of his wife acquitted him on the grounds of insanity.

"Perhaps the greatest source of trouble," said Dr. Kiehl, "is that the law gives the actual decision as to the existence of insanity, in other words, the medical diagnosis, to a jury of laymen, an obvious error, which is apparently irremediable without an amendment to the existing constitution."

Calling present day trials "contests between prosecutors and the defense," Dr. Kiehl said that because of the current procedure specialists received only one side of the testimony and consequently can not escape bias.

He described the hypothetical question to be the worst feature of the present trials in which insanity is pleaded.

Cincinnati, January 29.—(AP)—

Errors in legal procedure are responsible for many miscarriages of justice under plea of not guilty on grounds of insanity. Dr. Charles E. Kiehl, professor of neurology of the University of Cincinnati, said in an address here tonight.

Dr. Kiehl was a member of the commission that returned findings of sanity in the recent case of George Remus, former "bootleg king," although the jury in Remus' trial of the slaying of his wife acquitted him on the grounds of insanity.

"Perhaps the greatest source of trouble," said Dr. Kiehl, "is that the law gives the actual decision as to the existence of insanity, in other words, the medical diagnosis, to a jury of laymen, an obvious error, which is apparently irremediable without an amendment to the existing constitution."

Calling present day trials "contests between prosecutors and the defense," Dr. Kiehl said that because of the current procedure specialists received only one side of the testimony and consequently can not escape bias.

He described the hypothetical question to be the worst feature of the present trials in which insanity is pleaded.

London, January 29.—(United News)—Reports from Paris that Countess Alice de Janze soon will marry Raymond de Trafford, for whose shooting she recently was tried by a French court, the suit to elicit today either confirmation or denial from the relatives of the wealthy Englishman.

The de Trafford family said it had "nothing to say." De Trafford himself has been hunting in Leicestershire throughout the season. The Sunday Express understands the marriage report is without foundation.

Countess was born in U. S. Countess de Janze, born in Buffalo and resident of Chicago, created a sensation several months ago by shooting her lover and seriously wounding him while he was in a train at a Paris station on route for London. Later she attempted to commit suicide. Both were at the point of death but recovered.

The explanation she gave the court of the shooting was that his family refused to permit the marriage. De Trafford himself testified, assuming responsibility for the suit to elicit today either confirmation or denial from the relatives of the wealthy Englishman.

The court sympathized with the countess and let her off lightly.

Experiments were carried on over the national air transport line between New York and Chicago.
